HAPPY DRIVERS of this miniature "Thunderbird" car in the Sunday parade at the Orinda Fiesta were Christopher Cutting, 6, and Sydney Cutting, 7, of 7 Valley View Drive. The small-model car bears the name "Miss Cloverleaf Jr."

DANCING IN THE STREET was a popular pastime at the Fiesta, as this picture shows. Hard to say who are enjoying the fun most—the youthful grammar school students performing terpsichorean antics, or the spectators.

Thousands Enjoy Fiesta As Orinda Celebrates Interchange Completion

By DUANE MEYERS

Orinda's Fiesta to celebrate completion of the Interchange is all over, but the memories linger on.

The big two-day event last weekend attracted thousands.

ACCORDING TO Joseph Creighton, chairman of the Fiesta's steering committee, "We cleared expenses. The bookkeepers are still busy figuring just how much the proceeds will be."

In the midst of the excitement surrounding the gay event, several residents commented on the perfect weather Mother Nature provided for the Fiesta.

It should be pointed out that several months ago, when the Fiesta was in its early planning stage, Joseph Sheaff, superintendent of the Orinda School District, came up with a set of figures.

Those figures showed that the weekend of May 14-15 seemed logical for a celebration from the standpoint of weather. Rainfall figures were compiled painstakingly.

JOE CHEAFF'S prognostications after much hard work, proved accurate!

But to get down to the celebration itself —

One of the many climaxes was the crowning of the queen — lovely Pat Kiernan. Pat is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kiernan of El Toyonal. She was sponsored by the Orinda Park Pool.

She led throughout the voting, which was based on ticket sales. Judges of the queen contest were Jim Hanifan, all-coast end for the University of California football team last fall, Mayor Edward Counter of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Shirlee Marchant of Lafayette.

THE JUDGES interviewed the candidates the Wednesday night preceding the Fiesta, at an Orinda Lions Club meting. They then submitted their votes, which were combined with the ticket sale totals.

Saturday night the queen candidates were introduced on the main stage of the Fiesta. Edward I. DeLaveaga was given the honor of crowning the queen. He obliged with a resounding kiss.

Joseph Creighton announced the winner. The coronation band of six teen-agers, The San Pablo Dam Six, played.

OTHER LOVELIES competing for the queen honor were Pat Camp, Bonnie Nason and Jeanine Burris.

The queen received prizes including dinner for two at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco, a $50 merchandise order from Virginia Hammond's in Orinda, $10 in merchandise orders from Sally's and Ogden's Tween Togs of Orinda, and a gift from Tobias Jewelry.

Her court attendants got a $15 merchandise order from Virginia Hammond's and $5 orders from Sally's and Ogden's.

The queen and her court led the parade Sunday. The Sunday parade was also highlighted by military

County Kids Are Given Salk Shots

Salk anti-polio inoculations for Contra Costa County first and second graders who have not yet received their first shots began yesterday and will finish today, announced Dr. Beryl Graham of the county health department.

For those youngsters who have already received their first shots the second will be given on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The vaccine used is still that of the Eli Lilly Company which has been checked, tested and completely approved by the U.S. Public Health Service.

Anticipating the action which came from the state health department Monday, authorizing the resumption of the inoculations, the Contra Costa department sent letters and parental request forms home with school children Friday and Monday.

The department now has enough vaccine on hand to complete the county wide inoculations of an estimated 18,000 first and second grade children, Dr. Graham announced.

Road Maintenance Agreeent Signed

An agreement was signed Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors for the county's share of maintenance work at the Interchange.

The agreement calls for the County Public Works Department to be responsible for maintaining the frontage roads at the Interchange, plus the sidewalk through the underpass.

The State Division of Highways will be responsible for the road through the underpass, plus the cloverleaf loops and the overpass.

The agreement was signed with the State Division of Highways.

Orinda Plan Gets Second Public Hearing Tuesday

The County Planning Commission will hold the second official public hearing on the Orinda master (or general) plan at 8 p.m. Tuesday, at the County Administration Building, Pine and Escobar Streets, Martinez.

According to Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith, the plan thus far has met with general approval by residents.

Suggestions from Orinda planning groups, including the Planning Committee of the Orinda Association, have largely revolved around ideas for adopting the plan on an interim basis.

At the first hearing by the commission, March 22, the commission heard a report by Francis Violich, consultant to the Planning Committee.

Violich's main recommendation was that the plan be adopted on an interim basis pending completion of the Moraga and Lafayette plans and that all three then be adopted on a regional basis.

This recommendation and others will be considered Tuesday, Griffith said.

VOTE TODAY IN YOUR SCHOOL ELECTION

Sun's 'Teenager' Sub Contest Tight– Any of Entrants May Win $250 Prize!

"Winners Never Quit — Quitters Never Win" is the theme song that's being sung by "Teenager" contestants this week.

The boys and girls participating in The Sun's interesting and redividends each day, and some mighty desirable prizes just eight days dividends each day, and some mighty desirable prizes just one week from today, on May 28.

Any number of the group have their eyes on that top prize of $250 cash, or one of the magnificent merchandise prizes.

That old story of the hare and the tortoise reminds them that constant plugging, right up to the closing hour, can mean that one of those far down the list of standings can be on top in the finals.

BUT, those at the top now say they will not be displaced — that they have "only begun to fight."

When the first period ended last Saturday night one of the latest entrants, energetic Noel Jones of 21 Don Gabriel Way, Orinda, demonstrated that all meteors do not come from above.

In this one week she shot up to second place in the entire lineup of 40 contestants and "copped" the weekly prize of a 17-jewel wrist watch.

Only Mike Lobenberg of Lafayette stood between her and that grand capital prize of $250!

AND EACH OF THEM VOWS no one else can get to the top, but Susan Nowland of Lucas Road, Jim Fleming of Topper Lane and Susan Burns of Glenside Drive are right behind them.

And if Roger Hartman of Hidden Valley, who is next in line, keeps up the same pace he worked last Saturday, he's likely to make another big jump in the lineup.

Bil Wright did fine work last week, and gave Noel a real race for that watch, placing second in the number of new subscriptions for the week.

Tomorrow night at 6 o'clock is the deadline for another weekly watch award, with Noel and Mike eliminated.

WHO WILL BE CROWNED king or queen the night of May 28 depends on the effort put forth by the contestants and the support given them by parents, neighbors and friends.

A complete list of the contestants, in order of their relative standings as of last Saturday night, is shown elsewhere in this issue.

There's not a single one of them who couldn't, by persistent effort, be among the prize winners on closing day.

WHY NOT PHONE your favorite now to "come and get it" if you have not already subscribed or renewed?

It may mean little to you, but it means a lot to any of these young salesmen whom you might help. YOURS, Mr. or Mrs. Reader, might be the deciding subscription. Their time is limited, and the area is large and scattered, so a phone call to The Sun office or to their homes will be greatly appreciated.

Or, perhaps you have already given one of these junior business men or women your subscription for a year. You can still take advantage of the special money-saving two and three year rates, and help your little favorite many times over, by paying the difference now. ($6.50 for two years and $9 for three years are special contest rates.)

But vote values on both new and renewal subscriptions take another drop after 6 o'clock tomorrow night. So immediate payment will help more than one made next week.

Have a part in deciding this big race!

Pine Grove Town Meet Being Planned For June 20, Prior to July Balloting

....Preparatory to balloting by mail early in July on future use of the Pine Grave, a June 20 "Town Meeting" has been tentatively scheduled at Orinda School auditorium, for further discussion of the controversial plans of Pacific Intermountain Express.

The June 20 "Town Meeting" date was recommended by the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee Monday night.

Association Vice-President Frederic Sawyer, after conferring with President Robert Boyle, announced yesterday that board members are considering arrangements for the "Town Meeting" and that a definite decision is expected next week.

Sawyer added that the board will not meet Monday night, its usual meeting night, and that directors will discuss the matter by phone or otherwise.

IN RECOMMENDING the June 20 "Town Meeting," the Civic Affairs Committee set into motion machinery for community-wide dissemination of Francis Violich's recommendations regarding the Pine Grove, as well as of PIE's plans for a $750,000 office building.

Violich, consultant to the association's Planning Committee, last week recommended that the Pine Grove be used for community center purposes.

Civic Affairs Chairman Paul Pollaczek named W.W. Lee as chairman of a committee to arrange for speakers at neighborhood meetings and William Thurston as head of a committee to prepare election details.

POLLACZEK URGED that organizations interested in hearing speakers, phone Lee at CL 4-3183. Assisting Lee are Bob Bettencourt and Mrs. George F. Hickok.

Both these committees will report to the next Civic Affairs meeting, June 13.

During Civic Affairs discussion last Monday night at Orinda School library, Bettencourt suggested that the association board be asked to "take a definite stand" on the PIE proposal and on future use of the Pine Grove.

However, no action was taken on this point. Sawyer explained that the board attitude is that the proper method is to obtain community reaction first.

IT WAS GENERALLY agreed that the "basic issue" is not PIE but whether or not the Pine Grove is to be used for a community center and whether any commercial use is suitable for the Pine Grove.

Ballots are to be sent to all Orinda residents not later than July 1. This was decided at a special joint meeting of the board and Civic Affairs May 12, at which Violich made his new report.

Board to Hear Thomas Bid for Office Permit

The County Board of Adjustment Wednesday night is scheduled to hold a public hearing on the application of Dr. W.F. Thomas for a permit for a professional building at Moraga Highway and Southwood Drive.

The hearing will be held in the County Administration Building, corner of Pine and Escobar Streets, Martinez, at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Thomas originally applied for retail rezoning of the property on Lot 42 of Moraga Estates. The area is now zoned residential.

Orindans, Incorporated, the improvement association for Moraga Estates, fought the move.

At a March 17 meeting the residents of the area voted to indicate acceptance of a medical office building on the property if Dr. Thomas withdrew his request for rezoning and applied instead for a land use permit.

Feary Estate Valued At $54,946.73

Robert D. Feary, who died June 2, left an estate valued at $54,946.73, according to an appraisal report filed recently in the county clerk's office.

Feary, who operated the Bearinda Hereford Ranch on Bear Creek Road, left an estate consisting principally of property in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties, the report shows.

Blue Skies Help Fiesta Succeed

Blue skies and heat.

That's the weather story for the week in Orinda, as summer looms closer.

Two nearly identical days, from the standpoint of high and low temperatures, helped make the Orinda Fiesta a success.

No rain came to mar the festivities. Saturday's and Sunday's highs were 65, and the low for Saturday, 38, was just one degree above Sunday's low.

The weather bird did himself proud on that arrangement.

Here are the week's temperatures:

May 12	80	40
May 13	67	43
May 14	65	38
May 15	65	37
May 16	68	40
May 17	77	43
May 18	88	45

Recall Group Calls Cummings Evasive

Contending that "Mr. Cummings has acknowledged our charges, he has not answered them," the Citizens for Representative Government yesterday intensified the recall petition drive against Supervisor H. L. (Jack) Cummings.

(Editor's note: The recall proponents' statement was in response to Cumming's detailed comments, published in last week's Sun, on the charges which had been leveled against him by the recall group.)

At the same time, the recall group announced a platform for the Citizens for Representative Government, stating that the organization's purpose is "to re-establish representative government in Supervisorial District 2."

Giving its mail address as Box 221, Alamo, the recall organization issued the following press release in response to last week's statement by Cummings, chairman of the county board:

"'CITIZENS FOR Represntative Government' (CRG) has initiated recall action against Mr. H. L. Cummings based solely on the record that Mr. Cummings has established in Contra Costa County.

"Citizens have been forced to DEFEND AGAINST actions of Mr. Cummings with increasing frequency over the past years. He is working against us most of the time rather than for us. This is government in reverse and must be corrected.

"A 'rubber stamp' candidate is not wanted, nor would one be supported. We are seeking to remove from office a man who has consistently supported certain realtors, subdividers, building trades contractors and title insurance people.

"These individuals, who rallied to Mr. Cummings' defense when recall action was initiated, stand to lose their significant advantage if Mr. Cummings is removed from office.

"ASSERTIONS that CRG wants to block the continued growth and 'progress' of Contra Costa County are ridiculous. We want it clearly understood that we favor 'progress' when it means 'an advance to a worthwhile objective.' Simply changing the face of the county by plastering subdivisions helter-skelter, by installing sewer lines without adequate study, ignoring road problems as related to commercial enterprise, etc., is not 'progress'.

"Where and what are the objectives of Mr. Cummings and the other supervisors for Contra Costa County? Where have they ever been clearly delineated?

"When sincere citizens from, for example, San Ramon Valley, Lafayette or Orinda demand orderly and efficient development of their portions of the county, they are labeled 'pressure groups' or told to 'incorporate.' Such answers do not void the issues or establish the objectives sought.

"MR. CUMMINGS has acknowledged our charges, he has not answered them. His defense is based on the legality of his actions.

"The question of the legality of Mr. Cummings' actions has been raised in only one instance. However, we do challenge the reasoning, the research and the objectivity behind his record.

"Mr. Cummings did not even acknowledge the specific charges (1) that Ordiannce 933 was amended in a manner not in accordance with the law (e.g., ideas and suggestions of Planning Commission not first procured), (2) that he tactlessly has entered into board decisions from which he could financially benefit (Mr. Cummings is the owner of Crockett Electric Company, an electrical contracting firm), (3) that Grand Jury reports have been ignored.

"ACALANES MEETING, May 2: This meeting was announced in at least one newspaper chain as one at which people were asked to come prepared to pledge themselves and their organizations to the recall fight.

"The idea that it was open to persons who strongly support the individual under consideration for recall was an obvious misconception. Clearly such individuals did not attend in force because they were considering pledging themselves or their organizations to the recall movement.

"The element at the meeting 'which made its presence known far more by its vociferous and inappropriate behavior than by its mere mass' would have broken up the meeting had it not been for the presence of law enforcement officers. It is interesting that Mr. Cummings characterizes the legitimate use of law enforcement officers to maintain order at the meeting as 'gestapo-like.'

"HEATON AND Barkley appointments: CRG has not said that Thomas Heaton, director of planning, and George Barkley, assistant to Mr. Cummings without definition of duties, were illegally appointed,

Orindans Vote Today in School Board Elections

Orindans go to the polls today to choose two trustees for the Orinda School District board and to vote on the trustee race in the Acalanes High School District.

They will also vote on the high school district proposal to allow the Acalanes District to borrow up to $600,000 from the state to buy school sites. (For additional information on the Acalanes High School District vote, see separate story).

Candidates for the three-year terms as trustees on the Orinda School District board include incumbents Frank Cayting and Catherine Schwarck and Karl Schevill and Frank Shirey.

Statements of all four candidates appeared in last week's Sun.

Polling places are at Orinda School for residents on the Village side of Mt. Diablo Boulevard, except for the precinct at the top of El Toyonal. The latter precinct and those voters on the Moraga side cast their votes at Glorietta School.

Voters in precinct 15, that portion of El Sobrante lying within the boundaries of the Orinda School District, about 5 miles northwest of Orinda School, may vote in the East Contra Costa Junior College Ward 2 election.

Edgar Dale is running unopposed for trustee from that ward.

Local Firm Bids Low for Work on Altarinda Unit

Orinda Excavating and Paving Company Tuesday submitted low bid of $66,838.13 for improvement work on Unit 1 of Altarinda Estates.

Unit 1, which consists of 37 lots on some 65 acres, is the first stage in the development of Altarinda Estates. The entire acreage in the Estates is some 275, according to D. W. Hamilton of Oakland, engineer for the improvement work.

THE ESTATES ACREAGE lies on the north side of Mt. Diablo Boulevard between Charles Hill Road and a point about ¼ of a mile east of the Crossroads. It is bounded on the northwest by Hacienda Del Orinda.

The improvement work for Unit 1 will consist of necessary drainage, paving, sewers and grading, according to Eugene Sturgis, Oakland attorney retained by the corporation to handle assessment proceedings for the work.

Altarinda Estates, Incorporated, is headed by Ben Johnson of Orinda, president, Dennis Harrin of Piedmont and Phil Becker of Hayward.

ASSESSMENT BONDS for the improvement work were sold to Eastland Douglas and Company of San Francisco.

The assessment proceedings, according to Sturgis, is, in effect, a "first mortgage levied against each piece of property in the unit for the basic improvement work."

The proceedings required a hearing by the County Board of Supervisors. The board reviewed the proceedings Tuesday and opened the bids for the work.

Black Widows on Increase, Says Local Resident

Black widow spiders, heretofore something of a rarity in these parts, are on the increase, according to Mrs. A. L. Ammen of 215 Crest View Drive.

Because of this, Mrs. Ammen told The SUN, "it would be well to warn local resident of the danger and to remind them to seek immediate medical attention if they are bitten."

DOCTORS IN AREAS unfamiliar with the black widow's bite may have difficulty diagnosing the symptoms of victims.

A Missouri doctor by the name of Richard R. Grayson last summer came up with a method of detecting results of a black widow's bite.

He had one victim who "was barely able to stagger and was "moaning and groaning and twisting about," the doctor wrote in a medical report.

When the patient said he had been "bitten by something," the doctor thought of the black widow. To check this, he injected 10 cubic centimeters of 10 per cent calcium gluconate, which immediately helped the patient.

THE DOCTOR SAID, "the diagnosis of black widow spider bite will have to be made on clinical grounds and the physician will have to be thoroughly aware of the disease in order to make the diagnosis."

He concluded, "The best bet is apparently the intravenous injection of calcium gluconate. In no other disease, perhaps, is such instantaneous relief granted from such agonizing misery as here. One could almost say that this test is specific for the disease."

'Evasive' Charge Hurled at Cummings

just illogically and ill-advisedly appointed.

"Moraga Issue: (Utah Construction Company): CRG points out the complete about-face of the supervisors in returning the entire matter to the Planning Commission and to the staff which they had ridiculed one week before.

"Since recall has ben initiated, Mr. Cummings has made some efforts to alter the record, to meet more with the people, etc. Is 'forced' representation what we wish? Can we maintain confidence in such an official? CRG believes that the record clearly invalidates such a conclusion.

"WHEN A SUPERVISOR no longer represents the people of his district, a method for the people to regain true representation is needed.

"The California Election Laws wisely provide such a method, known as recall.

"Our action, then, provides the residents of District 2 with the opportunity to sign a recall petition, and, at a later date, to cast a vote for a candidate in whom they can have more confidence."

In an accompanying statement, the Citizens for Representative Government announced the following platform:

"PURPOSE: To re-establish representative government in Supervisorial District 2.

"Basic Policy: Respect for and implementation of the wishes of the people.

"Objective: To replace the present incumbent with a man who:

"1. Is capable of real leadership.

"2. Will put Principle first in all his actions.

"3. WILL ACT for the long-term good of the county, rather than for the short-term gain of special interests.

"4. Will keep his constituents informed.

"5. Will give honest and sincere attention to the wishes of the people he represents.

"6. Will insist on above-board hearings and actions by the Board of Supervisors and will combat the tendency toward pre-determined decisions.

"7. Will not attempt to influence the decision of any county agency on any matter before that agency.

"8. Will dispualify himself from acting on matters affecting his own business interests and will insist that his appointees do likewise."

Thousands Enjoy Orinda Fiesta Days

units and the overhead roar of airplanes. Brig. Gen. Rollin Moore, parade chairman, was in one of the planes punctuating the parade.

The children's parade, which started things off Saturday morning, included between 500 and 600 youngsters. Three hundred and 50 award ribbons were given for the colorful entries. That parade was supervised by the Mothers Club.

Other highlights of the two-day affair included the more than 20 booths, gaily decorated by local organizations . . . the folk dances, the Fiesta entertainment on stage, especially the songs of Armando Ramon and Jessie Mancillo . . . the music of Gordon Heche and his orchestra and the melodies of H. W. Gentry's Orinda Businessmen's Dixieland Band . . . the street dance . . . the art exhiibts.

HERE ARE SOME of the lucky winners:

Mrs. George Eberhart won the Thunderbird car donated by Rett-White Motor Sales of Walnut Creek and Lafayette. Little Cathy Sodestrom is the proud owner of a young Fiesta burro given away by the Moraga Del Rey Improvement Association.

Grammar school winners of the bop contest were Pat Murphy and Pete Olsen. Second were Joan Fowkes and Mark Littlejohn. High school winners were Judy Parker and Gordon Fowkes. Second were Carol Bekins and Bill Falkner.

First prize in both groups was a $5 merchandise order from Capwell's and the same from Grodin's. Second place winners got $2.50 merchandise orders.

Winners of toy Pacific Intermountain Express trucks were Ricky Duley and Herb Haworth of Walnut Creek and Dine Edelin, Doug Peter and Donald Gardner of Orinda.

ART FESTIVAL WINNERS included Theodosia Gardner, first and second in oil paintings; honorable mentions to Gloria Brown, Doris Fraser and Mary Gray.

First in water colors, Polly Wagener; second to Agnes Oliphant and Theodosia Gardner; honorable mentions to Jo Sherman Pease and Otto Scherard.

Scherard also received a first for pen and ink drawings.

Crafts winners were:

Copper, Noni Doty; second, Mrs. Murry Groves; Ceramics, Mrs. Murry Groves, honorable mention; and Fern LaFond; Handmade silver, Shirley Crawshaw.

Weaving, Margaret Moore; second, Wanda Leffle.

SALLY FLEAGER WON a first in water colors among the teen-age entries. Suzy Allen won a first in oil painting on paper and an honorable mention went to Dick Doty for a water color.

Mary Gray was chairman of the art show. Margaret Vebrich and Chris Lee shored honors as sidewalk portrait artists. The sidewalk artists also included a group of children from the morning classes of the Orinda Art Group, supervised by Mary Lavagetto.

SO THE FIESTA is history. To cap it, Joseph Creighton said yesterday, "The committee's thanks go to all who joined to make the Fiesta what it was:

"To the merchants who were so inconvenienced; to the organizations and their members who manned the booths; to those who donated prizes, properties and materials; and to all who celebrated with us."

Creighton paid special tribute to Laura Cooper, "who served as our hostess at the Fiesta Hut, and who handled so well the many details of the celebration."

Laura was secretary of the steering committee.

CREIGHTON ADDED, "Now the Fiesta Hut will return again to its mundane existence as a construction office. The Fiesta Committee will wind up its affairs and turn over its records and whatever small profit it may have made to the permanent board of directors of the Orinda Fiesta.

"Again, thanks to all who participated."

(Editor's note: It was fun, wasn't it?)

WINNERS IN OTHER essay contests held by the unit are these girls. Among sophomore, junior and senior girls at Acalanes High School. Marcia Miilu of Lafayette (second from left) was first and Janet elson of Orinda (left) was second; both are seniors. Alley Stop Sign, Parking Problems Get C of C Study

Efforts to have the county replace the stop sign at the west end of Davis Alley (Vashell Way) will be continued under action taken Tuesday noon by the Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber, meeting at the Willows, referred the stop sign problem back to its parking committee after members heard a letter read from Basil Andrews, traffic division engineer with the County Public Works Department.

IN HIS LETTER in answer to a chamber request that the sign be replaced, Andrews said, "Although a stop sign at this location would not be improper, we felt there were sufficient reasons for not placing it."

Andrews listed two reasons why his office feels a sign at that point is not needed. They are:

1. Vehicle code restrictions make it mandatory for vehicles emerging from an alley less than 22 feet wide to yield the right of way to other vehicles and pedestrians.

"The same rules apply to private driveways and signs are not ordinarily installed for them," Andrews pointed out.

2. "THE IMPOSSIBILITY of maintaining a stop sign at the proper location.

He explained: "Since the Wood building is at the edge of the pavement, a stop sign on the right would soon be knocked down unless it were fastened to the building above the height of truck bodies, where it would be out of the field of vision for many drivers.

"A sign could be placed on the left but it would not be legally enforcible."

Andrews pointed out that a stop sign had been placed at the east end of the alley, "because it is not evident to drivers at this point that this is an alley less than 22 feet wide."

THE SIGN FORMERLY at the west end was painted on the street. The marking has worn away. Chamber members pointed out that vehicles are not stopping as they emerge from the alley at that point.

The chamber's parking committee, consisting of Horace Breed, Ramsay Underwood and Clarence Betz, was instructed to explore the matter further.

In answer to another question about moving the double line on Brookwood Road closer to the center of the street, Andrews wrote that parallel parking on one side of Brookwood would require an off-center line.

HORACE BREED, chamber member and head of the newly-formed Parking Commission board, reported the County would probably change some of the parking time limits on Brookwood Road and Moraga Highway from two to one-hour limits.

Breed also indicated there will be parallel parking on one side of Brookwood Road and diagonal on the other side to allow freer traffic flow.

Ned DeLaveaga, newly-elected president of the chamber, said, "We're losing business because of parking problems," and he asked about the feasibility of using parking meters.

Breed answered, "We are studying this and have written for information."

E. J. Phair, another parking commissioner, briefly reported on the commission's recent meeting with the District Attorney.

Phair said the parking authority would have "very little money to work with and would need outside financial help to aid in solving parking problems.

Chamber Elects DeLaveaga President

Ned DeLaveaga, owner of DeLaveaga's Chevron Service Station, was elected president of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

The chamber, holding its annual membership meeting at the Willows, also set June 7 for its vote on which plan for the Pine Grove to endorse.

DeLAVEAGA SUCCEEDS Ernest Poll of the Village Cleaners as president. Other new officers are:

Merle Brown, manager of the American Trust Company, Orinda, vice-president; Clarence E. Betz, accountant, secretary - treasurer. Automatically joining the new board of directors is Poll.

Other directors elected were Zoe Woolsey, Realtor; Virginia Hammond, owner of Virginia Hammond's dress shop; George Connor, local manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Company; George Bauslaugh, local manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company; and Paul Vashell, electrical contractor.

The new officers were elected unanimously.

JOHN OGDEN, OUTGOING vice-president, presided Tuesday in the absence of Poll. Ogden said a copy of the Violich report as well as a copy of the Pacific Intermountain Express report on uses for the Pine Grove will be mailed to each chamber member.

Ogden added that the members will have time to study the issues involved and the chamber membership will vote on the question at its next meeting June 7.

A committe headed by Clarence Betz will supervise the balloting. Other committee members are George Dodge, Mrs. Eda Lippi and Andy Blalock.

Several members discussed the Pine Grove briefly. Horace Breed showed a picture and map of the area he proposes as a logical site for a community center. (See separate story).

THE CHAMBER passed a formal resolution extending thanks to Ernest Poll for "tireless efforts in behalf of the chamber during the past year."

Numerous members praised the outgoing president's leadership, sincerity and hard work.

THE NOMINATING committee headed by Walter Friberg presented three recommendations to be acted on at future meetings. They are:

1. That the secretary-treasurer be paid for his services.
2. That there be an increase in dues for the larger establishments.
3. That a booklet on Orinda be published by the chamber.

Steve DeMaria To Get Eagle Rank Wednesday

Steve DeMaria, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeMaria of 16 Southwood Drive, will attain Scouting's highest rank at Boy Scout Troop 207's Eagle Court of Honor at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The court will be held at Fellowship Hall of the Orinda Community Church. The minister, the Rev. Fred Morrow, will give the invocation.

STEVE, 15, IS a freshman at Acalanes High School. He is junior assistant scoutmaster of Troop 207.

The new Eagle Scout has been in Scouting about 7 years. He attended the month-long Philmont Junior Leaders Training Course last summer at the Scout Ranch in New Mexico.

According to the scoutmaster of Troop 207, Gerry Cullen, Steve has been selected by the district to attend the international Boy Scout Jamboree to be held near Niagra Falls, Ont., in August.

STEVE IS ALSO an active member of Explorer Post 300 of Orinda.

The Eagle Court of Honor highlights Troop 207's birthday anniversary. The troop is celebrating its 10th birthday this month.

Peter Wilder, troop committee chairman, is in charge of arrangements for the court. Charles Warner of Berkeley, assistant district Scout executive, will conduct the opening ceremony.

Hacienda del Orinda Association Will Elect

Annual meeting of the Hacienda del Orinda Association will be held Monday night at Orinda School.

According to President William Fleager, the 8 p.m. meeting will be highlighted by election of officers and by annual reports.

Planning, incorporation and zoning are among topics scheduled for discussion.

New Mobilgas Station Will Be 'Rustic' In Design, Firm Informs Orinda Group

General Petroleum Corporation's new Mobilgas service station on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road, in Orinda's Planned Neighborhood Business District, will be "of typical California rustic design" in line with "the desires of Orinda residents," according to David F. Reed, the company's district sales manager.

In a letter to Chairman James G. Hupp of the Orinda Association's Planning Committee, Reed wrote May 12:

"I am happy to be able to report to you and to the people of Orinda that we are now in the process of constructing a magnificent service unit of typical California rustic design. This station will be a "luxury" unit whose cost will far exceed that of most service station units.

"LANDSCAPING, with shrubbery appropriate to the area, will enhance the overall design. Having seen the preliminary drawings, I think I can give you my unqualified personal assurance that the honorable intentions of your citizens toward developing a planned business district will gain material support from this Mobilgas installation.

"We hope to have a final architectural rendering of the station ready very soon. When this is available, we plan to have enough photographic copies made to give every resident the chance to visualize the completed building and grounds.

"On behalf of my company, I extend to you and to your associates of the Orinda Association thanks for the courtesies and the cooperation offered to us in our efforts to help you realize your goal in the district."

REED REPORTED that a telephone survey conducted by his firm showed that "70 per cent of those interviewed told interviewers they would prefer that out new service station be designed in the rustic tradition."

Preliminary grading "has been finished," Reed stated. He added:

"The construction of a Mobilgas service station at our location will provide us the long-awaited opportunity to become an active member of your business community and to offer to residents automotive products and services which are not presently available in Orinda.

"MY COMPANY and I know that the business success which we hope to develop in your community can result only from the respect which we are able to earn from residents — not only for our products and service, and the manner in which we do business, but also for our ability to adapt our enterprise to the needs and desires of residents.

"For this reason, prior to completing the design drawings for our station, we asked a research team to conduct a telephone survey of opinion in your community.

"We wanted to learn the contributions to Orinda which your citizens would expect of our new service station. I think you and other home owners may be interested in the views of Orinda on at least two points, as actually expressed in the survey.

"FIRST, we learned from the survey that opinion in Orinda confirmed a fact shown by our intensive studies some months earlier—that our new retail enterprise could be expected to develop the normal volume required to make it a profitable venture.

"Twenty-three per cent of the people interviewed — a representative sample of the entire community — without being asked directly, volunteered the opinion that there is a need for the Mobilgas service station.

"A second view expressed by those interviewed provided us with a specific way in which we could best adapt our building plans to the desires of Orinda residents.

"Seventy per cent of those interviewed told interviewers they would prefer that our new service station be designed in the rustic tradition."

County Praises Mothers Club on Vision Program

The County Health Department yesterday issued a statement in praise of members of the Mothers Club of Orinda Schools who have worked on the vision testing research program in the Orinda District.

Dr. Henrik Blum's office noted that "Mrs. William Kooreman, health chairman for the Orinda Mothers Club, has worked very hard on all phases of the school health program . . . she deserves the highest praise for her outstanding contribution to the vision program."

ALSO SINGLED OUT for plaudits are Mesdames R. A. Stark and Uriel Smith, on the club's committee representing Orinda School; Mesdames Boone Robinson and John Rose, Sleepy Hollow School; Mesdames Robert Creighton and F. R. Hildebrand, Glorietta School; and Mesdames James Lindsay and G. E. Chase, Del Rey School. Miss Cynthia Knox, principal of Sleepy Hollow, represented the faculty on the committee.

The vision program is a pilot study conducted only in Orinda to determine what is proper criteria for vision testing in all schools.

It is being conducted jointly by the County Health Department, the University of California School of Optometry, the Stanford School of Opthalmologists, the County Board of Education, the State Department of Public Health and the Orinda School District.

THE MOTHERS CLUB health committee provides volunteer work.

The health department statement yesterday was issued to mark the close of the second year of the pilot study. Dr. Blum's office reported "There is a general feeling of satisfaction at the progress which has been made."

Home Department Meets Wednesday

The Orinda Home Department will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. John Traynor, 29 Hacienda Circle.

Subjects to be discussed will be "Buying Clothing for the Family" and "Trends in New Clothing."

The luncheon will demonstrate latest efforts by the food industry in saving time and energy in food preparation.

Reservations for the luncheon may be obtained by calling CL 4-5948. This will be the last Home Department meeting until fall.

A No Hitter

Don Hildebrandt twirled a no hit, no run game Saturday as Cub Pack 52 defeated Lafayette Pack 38, 17-0.

Hildenbrandt walked 11 but he was effective in the clutch, striking out 11. Not a ball was hit out of the infield.

The win gave 52 a 5 and 1 record for the year and they go after their sixth straight tomorrow when they meet Pack 225 at Glorietta School.

Hildenbrandt helped his own cause with two hits in three times at bat. Nickerson, Silva, Doolittle, Williams and Cannon hit one apiece.

The Rev. Morrow Will Be Honored Monday by Orinda

The Rev. Fred Morrow of the Orinda Community Church will be honored Monday night by a cross section of Orinda.

Mr. Morrow, after nearly 10 years as pastor of the local church, has resigned to take over a pastorate in Oroville in June.

MONDAY NIGHT'S testimonial dinner will be held at the Brazilian Room in Tilden Park, starting at 6:30.

According to Mrs. Ray Devin, who is in charge of arrangements for the event, some 20 Orinda organizations have signified their intention to have representatives at the dinner.

These include Boy Scout and Girl Scout organizations, the Chamber of Commerce, Orinda Association, Lions Club, Dramateurs, Orinda Nursery School Association, Mothers Club of Orinda Schools, Parents Club of Acalanes High School, Orinda District School Board, Masons, Acalanes Chapter of the United World Federalists and churches.

The impetus for the testimonial dinner started with the Orinda Rotary Club.

THE DINNER WILL be catered by Larry Blake's Catering Service of Berkeley.

Ramsay Underwood will be master of ceremonies. The Rev. Charles Hill, vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Donald Krotz and William Penn Mott Jr., will deliver brief addresses.

Reservations, at $3 per person, may be obtained by calling Mrs. Devin, DR 6-8697, Mrs. Emory Davis, CL 4-5287, or Leighton MacGregor, CL 4-3893. Ernest Poll of the Village Cleaners has been instrumental in organizing both the chamber's and the Rotary Club's part in the dinner.

The Rev. and Mrs. Morrow were honored by the Community Church Wednesday night at a testimonial dinner.

Mickey's Moraga Trip Is Over

Mickey, the E. A. Rudolph family's wandering parakeet, was returned Saturday after his second venture in the big, wide world.

About two months ago, Mickey flew the coop, leaving 10-year-old Bob Rudolph and Bob's parents in a high state of anxiety at their 30 Valley View Drive home.

That trip ended about a half-mile from home, at the Mel Nickersons on La Sombra Court. The adventure lasted only about seven hours.

But three weeks ago, Mickey zoomed away, again without his leg band or other means of identification. He visited the William Ross home in Moraga, about 5 miles from the Rudolph's.

The Rosses, of course, didn't know from where Mickey came. His vocabulary consisted mainly of "Pretty Boy," so that's what the Rosses dubbed him.

Mrs. Rudolph "followed up every clue" in trying to find Mickey. She found him at the Ross home Saturday. Mickey, in typical little boy fashion, offered no apologies for his escapade.

But he's happy to be home, according to Mrs. Rudolph.

Vandals Damage Church Sign Box

Brick throwing vandals knocked out a pane of glass on the sign box in front of the Catholic Church of Santa Maria last Friday night.

Father David Harrington, the parish priest, reported to sheriff's deputies that the damage totalled about $15.

Father Harrington said the vandals first drove up behind the church in a car and threw at the stained glass windows but missed. The windows cost some $750, Father Harrington said.

Deputy H. E. (Bud) Hobert is investigating.

Happy Birthday

ANN and ALICE

Ann and Alice Likowski, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Likowski of 6 Crest Blanca, celebrated their birthdays in the same week.

Alice observed her third birthday April 21 with a party for her small friends, Camilla Clement, Christine Hoyt, Stephen Morse of Piedmont, and sister Ann.

Ann celebrated her sixth birthday April 23. Helping her celebrate were Pamela Pixley, Shelly Scarich, Alice Edwards, Phyllis Anne Miller, Denise Meyer, Rory Reed, Nancy Reed, Frankie Edwards, Hall Clement, Wendy McBane, and sister Alice, all of Orinda; Phyllis Cooper, Craig Cooper, Karen Williams, Albany; and Kathy Reimer and David Reimer of Oakland.

JOANNE ELKINTON

On Saturday afternoon, April 9, Joanne Elkinton celebrated her 11th birthday with a luncheon at her home, 700 Miner Road, followed by movies at Orinda Theater.

Joanne's guests were Judy Ghundro, Betsy Hughes, Judy Jones, Jill Taylor, Linda Sears, Kathy Oliphant, Linda Van Sickle, Sharon Sage, Lee Elkinton, Sandra Kersh, Kathy Strauss, Linnet Yrests, Dianne Krog, Estelle Cataline and Patsy Kelly.

GINGER KETSDEVER

Ginger Ketsdever, celebrating her 11th birthday, gave a roller skating party for her friends April 23 at Rollerland.

They returned to Ginger's home at 68 Ardilla Road, where her parents, Norman and Sherley Ketsdever, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. William Penn Mott, served the girls a buffet dinner.

Ginger's guests included: Sharlene Mossotto, Carol Ketsdever, Judy Lucas, Janet Lucas, Judy Wilder, Nelgen Herget, Nancy Mott Nancy McKee and Eonnie Johnson.

Also, Carol Gilmore, Carolyn Coburn, Sherry Odenthal, Allison Hanford, Susan Hammond, Linda Sears, Sharolyn Sage, Ruth Owen, Judy Geandrot and Susan Starkman.

Breed Asks Use Of Other Land For Civic Center

Use of "some 15 or 20 acres" of land west of the Planned Neighborhood Business District for community center purposes was suggested this week by Horace Breed as an alternative to such use of the Pine Grove.

Breed's remarks were made at the Orinda Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Willows Tuesday and the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee meeting at Orinda School Monday night.

The land described by Breed is owned by the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

SHOWING A LARGE picture of what he described as "table-land" and a map for the section, Breed told the chamber:

"It would be a wonderful site for a community center. This EBMUD property — some 15 or 20 acres — is available for a reasonable figure, around $2000 an acre."

Breed stated that this land could be bought by the community for "about one-tenth" the price of the Pine Grove land now owned by Pacific Intermountain Express.

"WE CAN HAVE our cake and eat it too, with PIE in the Pine Grove and with the community center on this land," Breed declared.

Breed added that from the site "a beautiful view of Orinda" could be seen.

He added that the land is centrally located and would have easy access from the relocated San Pablo Dam Road which is to be constructed by the county.

WHEN HE DISCUSSED the same subject at the Civic Affairs meeting, sharp disagreement was expressed by Chairman James Hupp of the association's Planning Committee.

Hupp stated that administrative-type zoning for the Pine Grove would constitute "spot-zoning" and would set a precedent. Hupp mentioned that this view was contained in Francis Violich's recent report.

Breed disagreed with that opinion.

M S. Barnes Estate

The estate of Marion S. Barnes of Orinda, who died November 10, was fixed at $68,075 by a document filed recently in Superior Court.

Barnes was Pacific Coast district manager for General Electric Corporation's utility sales division. His estate goes to his wife, Mrs. Mabel Hepp Barnes.

Westminster Club To Meet Sunday

The High School Westminster Fellowship Club of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church will meet at 6:30 Sunday evening at the home of Ken Clapp, 3758 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

This will be a Missions meeting under the sponsorship of the Outreach commission, headed by Karen Betaque. Members and their friends are invited to attend and transportation will be available in front of Lafayette School at 6:15.

At the business meeting held last Sunday evening at the Valory home, several dates for coming events were set.

There will be a theater party tomorrow. The group will attend the showing of "A Man Called Peter." The telephone committee, with Jan Everson in charge, will arrange transportation and time of departure.

On Monday, May 30, the club will spend the day at the Valley-of-the-Moon Conference Grounds at Sonoma for a Camp Clean-up being held by the San Francisco Presbytery and recreation including swimming, hiking, and tennis.

In honor of the incoming freshmen, the club is arranging a banquet to be held June 11.

Members and their friends are urged to submit names for the club before June 1, at which time the club will vote on the suggestions.

The High School Summer Conference at the Valley-of-the-Moon was announced. This will be for the high school clubs of the Diablo area Presbyterian Churches and will be held August 7 to 14.

Helicopter Will Aid Stamp Sale

Between 10 and 10:15 a.m. Sunday a U.S. Navy helicopter from the Naval Air Station in Oakland is scheduled to land at hte parking lot next to the Orinda Post Office on Brookwood Road, to help "kick off" sale of the Armed Forces Reserve commemorative stamp.

Lieut. Commander George L. Stanton, 228 Ivy Drive, Orinda, president of the Oakland Naval Air Station Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States, will step out of the helicopter and purchase the first local batch of the special stamps from Assistant Postmaster Edward J. Kuenzli.

Suit Complains Boring Beetles Came With Home

Contending the subflooring of their home was infested with beetles and their larvae when it was built, three Orindans have filed suit asking for $16,700 damages.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Fawcett and Mrs. Fawcett's mother, Mrs. Eda Mighetto, have filed in Superior Court against J. W. Hancock, Hancock Construction Company and Glorietta Corporation.

The suit claims that one month after the house was occupied, at 32 Robert Road, the wood boring beetles began to emerge through finished flooring, linoleum and carpeting.

It further claims the home owners have been informed the condition cannot be corrected without complete replacement of the house. The home was completed in 1953.

Master Planning Group Will Meet Monday Evening

The Emergency Committee for Master Planing Contra Costa County has sent notices to 128 improvement associations throughout the county to attend a general membership meeting of the committee in Room 208, Acalanes High School, Monday night at 8 o'clock, Joe Zablocki, public relations chairman for the group, announced yesterday.

All improvement associations are inited to send their members to hear a progress report of the master plan by Gladys Schwatka, Zablocki said.

Mildred Farrar will talk on "Big Ideas for Planning Contra Costa County."

Blaine Dixon of Alamo will present "some basic ideas and questions that point toward overall policies which the people of the county, through their improvement clubs, can agree on as planning goals," according to committee spokesmen.

According to Zablocki, it is the committee's thought that "a concerted voice from the improvement clubs of the entire county, pointing toward some important planning objectives, would be both a constructive and positive approach to the solution of countywide development problems."

Dixon was elected a board member last week. Robert Guichard will be program chairman at Monday night's meeting.

Ed Clary, co-chairman of the Emergency Committee, will open the gathering with welcoming remarks.

Russell Myolsnes Elected 'Mayor' Of Jr. Statesmen

Russell Myolsnes, member of the Acalanes High School Chapter of the Junior Statesmen, has been elected "mayor" of the Golden Gate Region of the Junior Statesmen.

Myolsnes was chosen at a Bay Region Junior Statesmen convention last week at Acalanes High School. Representatives from JS chapters from 16 Bay high schools elected officers and discussed legislation dealing with state, national and foreign issues.

Dr. F. T. Sung, former Chinese educator, described the history, present conflict and possible future of China.

Charles Schorr, president of the Acalanes JS Chapter, played host for the event. Celia Gray, Sylvia Coffee, Smed Ambler, Julie Dees, Margaret Netherby, Joan Raefele, Phyllis Dail and Mike Pond of the Acalanes chapter headed arrangements.

Statesmen followed their legislative discussion with an evening dance.

CC Realtors to Meet Thursday

Members of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board who are interested in establishing a Toastmasters Club have been invited to the June 9 meeting of the Diablo Toastmasters Club in Walnut Creek.

This will give the interested members an opportunity to see how they can benefit from the Toastmasters. For details call King Parker, Al Ingalls or Frank Curtis.

The general membership meeting scheduled for Thursday at the Orinda Willows will take up the proposed changes in the by-laws approved by the board of directors and also the matter of part time salesmen.

Norman Morrill has applied for broker membership in the board, according to Membership Chairman Bill Atkinson.

Tom Foley Appointed Maddern Sales Manager

Anouncement of the appointment of Thomas A. (Red) Foley, recent St. Mary's College basketball coach, as a sales manager for a new division of the R. H. Maddern Sales Company of Oakland, manufacturer's representatives, was made today by Robert H. Maddern, president.

Effective immediately, Foley will seve as sales manager of the company's Taylor ice cream machinery division and will begin his new duties by organizing a sales organization, including distributors and salesmen. Foley's sales territory will include all of California and Nevada, Maddern said.

Local Masons to Attend Breakfast

The East Bay Masters and Wardens Association will sponsor its eighteenth annual spring breakfast June 12 at the Oakland Scottish Rite Temple.

S. L. Wade, senior warden of Orinda Masonic Lodge, is one of the sub-chairmen in charge of the breakfast.

Also assisting with arrangements is Verne W. Hendrix, junior warden of Mt. Diablo Lodge, in charge of junior wardens.

All Master Masons are cordially invited to attend.

Local Skaters to Perform on Ice

A total of 39 residents of Walnut Creek, Orinda and Lafayette will perform in the 18th annual St. Moritz Ice Revue tonight through Sunday at Berkeley Iceland.

Part of the proceeds will be turned over to the United States Olympic Games Fund.

Heading the big list of Contra Costa County representatives are two professional skaters who reside in Walnut Creek, Neil Rose and Lou Owen.

Rose and Meryl Baxter are the comedy duo known as The Rookies. They first appeared professionally with Sonja Henie's show before the war.

The other Walnut Creek star, Lou Owen, is returning to a professional show for the first time in five years.

Other Walnut Creek people in the revue are Jacqueline Joyslen, Janene Joyslen, Dianne Dailey, Hazel Joyslen, Charlotte Owen, Georgia Taylor, and Howard Taylor.

The cast includes the following:

Lafayette — Vickie Frank, Pam Martinson, Nancy Lee Copeland, and Virginia Vance.

Orinda — Cassandra Coates, Susan Hickox, Cheryl Jackson, Nancy Jeppson, Stacy Magill, Stephanie Magill, Julie Newman, Janet DuBois, Carol Jean Thurston, Charyl Wilson, Maureen McConnell, Pamela Pearson, Howard E. Fisher, Dorothy Marshall, Edith Niosi, Rosemary Niosi, Roy Niosi, Barbara West, Ben West, Ken Anderson, Norma Betz, Leatrice Fisher, Carmel Bodel, Edward Bodel, A. W. Elkinton, and Margaret Fisher.

Following dinner, the following new officers will be installed: President, Eleanor Hinkson, succeeding Nell Kennedy; vice-president, Margo Carr; recording secretary, Barbara Davenport; treasurer, Marion Thornton; corresponding secretary, Sally McKeegan, and parliamentarian, Nell Kennedy.

Hostess for the evening will be Hazel Courtney.

Installing officer will be Edna Littlefield, past president of the Berkeley BPW Club, assisted by Dorothy Pickering and Ann Pritchard of the Lafayette club.

Entertainment will include song solos by William Milne, accompanied by Catherine Milne; tap and ballet dancing by the Coralene Duane Dancers of Oakland and exhibition ballroom dancing by Veloz and Yolanda Dance Studio of Walnut Creek.

The public is invited.

Mrs. Howard to Speak on Art

"Helping Children Express Themselves Through Art" will be the topic for the next monthly meeting of the Diablo Art Association.

The meeting will be held May 23 at 8 p.m. in the Parish Hall of the St. Paul's Episcopal Church on 1924 Walnut Avenue in Walnut Creek. Mrs. Peter Howard, a critic of children's art, and, one of our charter members will be the speaker.

Mrs. Howard, former president of the Outdoor Art Association, now known as the Valley Art Center, will tell us of her experiences with children creatively expressing themselves through art. She has been identified with the development of "Cooperative Art Classes for Children" in the Walnut Creek and Lafayette area for more than a decade.

The public is cordially invited to this meeting. A coffee gallery will follow the program.

The public is invited to view a collection of paintings by various members of the Diablo Art Association at the Contra Costa Stationers Gallery.

Women Voters Attend Meetings

Among the seven thousand women delegates to the state convention of the League of Women Voters at Sacramento Tuesday, Wednesday and yesterday were three women from this area.

Heading the delegation was president of the local league, Mrs. Paul M. Craven, 445 Lakewood Road, Walnut Creek.

The other two delegates selected by the board were Mrs. John A. Holt, 15 Apricot Lane, Concord and Mrs. B. C. Litsinger, 209 Patterson Boulevard, Pleasant Hill.

In the three days of convention, the delegates decided upon the state agenda items and selected areas for legislative action for the coming year.

Curved Bar Awards to Be Presented To 66 Intermediate Girl Scouts

Thursday, 66 Intermediate Girl Scouts of the Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council will receive Curved Bars at the Court of Awards at Acalanes High School at 8 p.m.

The Curved Bar is the highest award in Girl Scouting and is optional to girls who are already First Class Scouts. To earn the award, a girl may choose one of four fields.

She must complete each badge in superior fashion, and with a notebook or other concrete evidence to show that she has mastered her material and is prepared to give service in that field. She must render some real service to others in connection with each badge.

A CHANGE IN THE traditional pattern is being made in that this year the program is to be presented by the Curved Bar Girls themselves. They will interpret to the audience some of the phases and meanings of the Scout program in general, and the Curved Bar program in particular.

Troop 59 of Walnut Creek will present the flag ceremony; Alamo girls will do "This is Your Life in Troop 14"; Troop 99 of Walnut Creek will sing "No Man is an Island"; Troop 60, Pleasant Hill, will present a brief history of Archery; Troop 77 of Lafayette, will show a typical Campfire Sing and Troop 19 of Pleasant Hill has worked up a skit on the theme of World Friendship.

Troop 9, Pleasant Hill, will lead in the traditional pattern for expressing reverence used by the Girl Scouts, the Scouts Own.

CURVED BAR PINS will be presented by Mrs. Leonard H. Ford, president. Closing will be led by Troop 10 of Orinda. Troop 69, Ygnacio Valley, will serve as hostesses for the refreshment period which will follow.

Monyeen Spiher, Senior Girl Scout of Pleasant Hill, will be Mistress of Ceremones.

Exhibits of the work of the various Curved Bar Troops will be on display during the refreshment period. The public, particularly Girl Scouts and their families, are cordially invited.

The following girls will receive Curved Bar awards:

Track Meet? No, Just Exercise

For residents baffled by the sight of scantily-clad young men loping along Mt. Diablo Boulevard Saturday morning, here's the explanation:

College of the Pacific in Stockton received a charter for the Alpha Kappa Lambda national fraternity. New COP chapter members grew energetic over the thought.

Thev arranged with University of California and Stanford fraternity brothers to join them in a 72-mile marathon from Berkeley to Stockton, relay-style.

The amateur runners were supposed to have struggled through eight-minute miles, but instead managed a much faster pace, upsetting time tables.

They roared past Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek, reaching the latter city a half-hour before schedule.

By the time COP runners got the charter, four miles west of Byron, the marathon was an hour ahead of schedule.

The band that was to play for the arrival at COP didn't arrive in time.

And all in the hot sun too!

CC Park Council To Meet Thursday

The Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council will hold its next meeting in Antioch Thursday in the City Hall Chambers, 8 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Richard Stockwell of the County Planning Commission, who will inform the group regarding the park master plan, with emphasis on the feasible development of the Antioch swale area into a lake for small boats.

Jim Hokanson, who has recently taken many beautiful slides of our potential park areas, will narrate the showing of these slides.

Anyone interestel in the promoion of this boating area and other recreational facilities is invited to attend.

PASSENGER CARS

Passenger car registrations in the United States increased more than 20 million in the decade from 1943 to 1953, according to the National Automibile Club.

Parents Urge Voter Turnout

Members of the Parents Committee for the Acalanes High School District Loan Proposal encouraged citizens of the Acalanes District community to turn out and vote today.

Committeewoman Hazel Ervin of Walnut Creek reminded elementary school parents that, "the high school educational standards their children will experience in the Acalanes High School District depends on securing a two-thirds "Yes" vote on the proposal to allow the high school district to borrow money from the state to purchase school sites to house expanding enrollment."

"PARENTS OF elementary children have an obligation to their own youngsters to see that adequate high school housing will be available when those elementary pupils reach secondary school," Mrs. Ervin emphasized.

The Acalanes High School District seeks local approval to borrow up to $600,000 from the state to buy school sites. School officials call the measure " a longrange economy."

The contest for the two trustee posts to be decided today in the Acalanes Union High School District will be between William B. Freeman and Carl Newbury, incumbents; Patrick F. Conway, contesting.

The loan, if approved, would be repaid to the state over a ten year period at a low interest rate. State funds for this purpose have already been okayed by state voters; two-thirds local approval is necessary before the loan can be made.

THE ACALANES District expects enrollment to triple by 1960 and go beyond 7000 secondary pupils by 1964. District officials argue that if the district is forced to wait until the enrollment is actually upon them, high school sites will have been swallowed up by development and improvements will have raised the price of land to prohibitive limits.

According to Acalanes Trustees the bulk of the pressure of expanding enrollments is made up of students already in the elementary schools within the Acalanes District.

Junior Horsemen Give Annual Show

The Tenth Annual Junior Horse Show of Contra Costa County Horseman's Association is scheduled for Sunday at the Don Fernando Pacheco Adobe, announced President Ted Albro.

Assisting Bob Baker, general chairman, will be Lee Adair.

STARTING AT 12:30 p.m., Grand entry awards will be made to "Best dressed juvenile cowgirl and cowboy," "Best matched pair" and "Youngest rider." Dr. and Mrs. Tim D. Leon will judge the entries.

Ring events will be as follows: Western Trail (11 years and under); Tack Race; Calf Riding; Pole Bending; Western Trail (12 to 17 years); Egg Race; Calf Roping; Relay Race; Open Stock Horse (Stock to be worked); Musical Chairs (2 rings); Western Pleasure; and Stake Race.

Joe Hallett and Boyce Baker will judge the ring events.

SILVER BELT buckles for first place in calf roping and calf riding and trophies and ribbons to fifth place will be awarded.

All entrants below 17 years must have signed parental consent. Entry blanks and information may still be obtained by contacting Skip Baker, Martinez, 3171-J, evenings.

TICKETS MAY be purchased at the gate or obtained from members of the Horseman's Association.

The show is open to the public. There will be special prizes awarded.

U.C. Planning Conclave Will Be Held Friday

Officers of two Contra Costa County planning groups will serve as "resource persons" for the third annual University of California Conference on City and Regional Planning today at the Richmond Memorial Auditorium, Richmond.

Mrs. Mitchell Farrar of the Women's Planning Council is listed on the program for the workshop on "What We Can Expect from a Good City or County Planning Department."

Mrs. Gladys Schwatka of the Emergency Committee for Master Planning will work with the "Problems Clinic." Mrs. Schwatka is a research attorney with the Judicial Council of the State of California.

The 1955 conference theme is "Planning and Building for Better Living in Cities and Counties."

The University is sponsoring the conference in cooperation with the League of California Cities, the County Supervisors Association of California and the Northern Section of the California Chapter of the American Institute of Planners.

Bruce Bliven, nationally known author and editor, will deliver the keynote address, "The San Francisco Bay Area: The Crisis of 1965."

The conference is intended to provide an opportunity for members of citizen organizations and public officials to explore the possibilities for more effective city, county and areawide planning and for greater cooperation between public planning agencies and the citizens.

A delegation from both the Emergency Committe for Master Planning and the Women's Planning Council will be in attendance.

Folk Dancers Hold 'Flying Hi' Party

Monthly dance of Acalanes Folk Dancers was held last Saturday night at Danville Veterans Memorial Hall.

"Flying Hi" was the theme chosen by the committee in charge of the party. Large kites decorated the hall. Small bright colored kites were placed among the flowering branches strewn along the dining tables.

The large attendance of club members and their guests enjoyed a program of folk and square dancing. Two guest callers were invited for the evening. They were Bernard Bloom, fifth grade teacher in Lafayette Grammar School and Vic Wintheiser of Richmond Circle Up Folk Dancers. His wife, Gerry accompanied him.

Other squares were called by a club member, Glenn Ward of El Cerrito.

Party committee consisted of Stan and Dorothy Baker, Danville, Walt and Julia Sessions, Walnut Creek, and Fred and Virginia Angella, Lafayette.

Scout Leaders Attend Luncheon

The Diablo Valley area Girl Scout Council was represented by the following at a recent luncheon in San Francisco at the YWCA:

Mrs. Leonard H. Ford, president; Mrs. J. Orr Kyle, vice-president; and Mrs. Harold Austin, corresponding secretary.

The purpose of the luncheon was to make plans for the National Girl Scout Convention to be held in San Francisco in November.

The purpose of the luncheon, which was attended by National President, Mrs. Rene Layton, was to plan the hostess duties at the convention. Mrs. Harold Austin was appointed the general chairman of hostesses.

Retarded Kids Workshop Planned

Establishment of a sheltered work shop for mentallly retarded children is one of the aims of Guidance for Retarded Children, East Contra Costa, Inc., according to James Hendryx, president of the organization.

The group is already conducting a pre-school program for children 3 to 9 years.

Some of these children will be able to attend public school in special sessions, but such public school education ceases when the child reaches 14.

"IT IS FOR THESE children, especially, says Hendryx, "that the sheltered work shop program is so important. Their education would be continued and they would be equipped with a suitable lifetime occupation, making them useful to themselves and their community.

"In the proposed sheltered work shop trades would be taught, ranging from light gardening to possibly some light manufacturing for the boys. The girls would be trained in home-making, sewing and possibly light upholstering. Job outlets would be developed, which, while recognizing the particular limitations of the individual, would permit him to achieve at least partial self-sufficiency.

"IF NO SUCH rehabilitation center is available," Hendryx points out, "the 14-year-old child who can no longer avail himself of public schooling, reaches a point of complete frustration where there is nothing to do, no place to go, no other youngsters with whom to associate.

"Placing a child in an institution is a heart-breaking decision for the parents to make, and it is not the answer. Governmert statistics prove that three-quarters of these mentally retarded children can be rehabilitated and made at least partially self-sufficient."

ORGANIZED A LITTLE over a year ago, Guidance for Retarded Children has made remarkable progress with the pre-school program. Through the use of self-help boards, the children are learning to lace their shoes, button and snap their clothes and participate in group work and games.

Service Bureau Seeks Club Listing

Organizations of Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Pleasant Hill and Concord were asked today to cooperate in compiling an up to date list of community groups.

The Community Service Bureau, a joint venture of the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce and local members of the Oakland Junior League, is compiling the list.

Service clubs, fraternal groups, improvement clubs, and social organizations are asked to complete the form below and mail it to the Community Serice Bureau, 1640 Main Street, Walnut Creek.

"Constant requests are received for up to date organization lists, said Vance Perry, Walnut Creek chamber secretary," and it is practically impossible to maintain these lists without the cooperation of the various groups because of continual changes in officers and mailing addresses."

"The assistance of the Community Service Bureau and the organizations should make it possible to keep the list fairly current," he added.

2 Acalanes Freshmen Will Attend Jamboree

Two Acalanes freshman scouts, Steve De Maria and Dave Brown, have been chosen to attend the eighth Scout World Jamboree this summer at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ontario.

The two were picked on the basis of scouting ability, citizenship and ability to make friends and get along with others.

Each boy will represent about 2,000 other scouts in his home area. An estimated 15,000 scouts from all over the world will attend this year's Jamboree.

A GO-GETTER is Noel Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Jones of 21 Don Gabriel Way, Orinda. Although she entered late in The SUN's "Teenager" prize contest, she wasted no time in climbing to second place in the race for the grand prize of $250, and also won the 17-jewel wrist watch offered for last week's effort. Deep appreciation of neighborhood support is voiced by Noel, who is now going further afield for those desired SUN subscriptions because winning that $250 would mean that she could buy a long-wanted horse.

Don Seniors Hold Banquet Tonight

Acalanes seniors will spend "A Night at Trader Vic's" this evening in the school cafeteria when they gather for their annual "Senior Banquet."

Heading preparations for the banquet are Bob Roberts, Pat Myers, Bev Jacuzzi, Roberta Peterson, Joan Hogue, Barbara Lawrence, Ann Kalbfleisch, Marcia Miilu, Bill Rupley, Claire Smith, Marilyn Day, Jean Galbraith and Lynn Cowling.

Entertainment and food will be centered around an Hawaiian theme. Teachers have volunteered to serve as waiters.

Jeanine Seeks 'Miss Oakland' Title

Jeanine Burris, the lovely blonde daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burris of 225 Overhill Road, is competing with 10 other beauties for the title of "Mis Oakland."

Finals for the contest are June 3 and 4. The winner will take part in the Miss California contest at Santa Cruz.

Jeanine, 20, was a candidate for Orinda Fiesta Queen.

P.O. Accident Rate Shows Drop

The number of accidents involving postal vehicles is being drastically reduced by the Post program, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said yesterday.

The program in the Orinda Post Office is under the direction of E. J. Doyle. Each driver is being given a road test and an examination of traffic knowledge.

As the program develops, sensory testing apparatus, movies and safety meetings will be used to increase the driving knowledge of the drivers of the Orinda office.

The year 1954 showed only one accident. Doyle said, "The main thing our drivers have to contend with in Orinda is the tendency of some people to drive on the wrong side of the road when rounding curves. The only accident of the year was caused by this practice."

Although the program is still in its early stages, preliminary reports show specific improvements in many areas, Postmaster General Summerfield stated.

Decreases in accident rates approach 50 per cent while repair costs have dropped nearly three quarters in some cities, he added Summerfield concluded, "the program will not only help postal employees in the safe operation of government vehicles but the good driver habits learned will also help in the safe every day operation of their own personal vehicles."

Go to Church Sunday

Episcopal

Tomorrow has been set aside to accomplish needed garden and yard work around the church and vicarage at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on Via Las Cruces.

The Rev. Charles M. Hill, vicar of St. Stephen's, stated the work day will begin at 9 a.m. He urged friends of the church to join in the day's activities.

Members of the Seabury Couples Club and the Young People's Fellowship will take over the cleanup job of the picnic promontory below the church, while other members of the congregation will cut flowers for the altar and other portions of the church.

Weeds will be attacked on the surrounding property and preparation for the concrete patio will be made.

Activity will proceed under the supervision of the landscaping chairman, J. Morris Browning, and his committee, which includes Mrs. T. E. Haley, Mrs. Harold Doane, Walter E. Christie and Alex Ganiats.

On Sunday teenagers of the Young People's Fellowship will convene at the church promptly at 4:45 p.m. to embark on their long-planned progressive dinner.

Salad will be served at the home of Shirley and Kenneth Matson. Susan Murray and Georgeann Watkins will offer the entree, and the group will return to the church undercroft for dessert and dancing.

Hostesses and hosts are Judy Hill, Donna Tunnicliff, David Oakley and Larry Pilcher.

Presbyterian

"Living in the World," sixth in a series entitled "Living the Life," will be the subject of the sermon by the Rev. W. Carl Thomas, pastor of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church, Sunday at 11 a.m. at the Park Theater, Lafayette.

There is a nursery provided at this time at the Lafayette Town Hall.

Sunday School classes are held at 9:40 a.m. at the Town Hall for two-year-olds and older, and at the theater for adults at 9:45.

Crossroad's Potluck will be held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. McDermed, 48 Camino Encinas, Orinda, at 7 p.m.

Sell what you don't need. Sun classified ads get fast results.

Community

"Christian Humility" is the topic of the sermon to be given as part of the morning worship service of the Orinda Community Church at 11 o'clock Sunday by the Rev. Fred Morrow.

This is the "full dress" service of the day, with the vested choir processional and an anthem from Haydn's "Creation," "Of Stars the Fairest."

Daniel Popovich, at the console of the memorial pipe organ, will play music from the works of Mousorgsky, Bach and Berlioz. Ray Welles is assisting in this service and also at 9:30 when a shorter worship period is held in the chapel for youth and adults. Marena Hewitt is the organist at that hour.

Superintendent Everett D. Howe conducts the 10 o'clock junior assembly and directs the work of the six separate departments in the Sunday school with sessions at 9:30.

Repeat classes are held for children through the third grade at the 11 o'clock hour, when there is also special provision for infant and child care for the benefit of parents who wish to attend church together.

The active Pilgrim Fellowship groups hold their meetings Sunday evenings in the church hall and chapel, junior high at 5:30 and senior at 6:45.

Douglas Krotz is the newly elected president of the elder group, and Sandy Brown continues to lead the younger.

Lutheran

"Working Together for Good" is the sermon theme for the 8 and 11 o'clock services at the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, by the pastor, the Rev. Edward R. Andersen.

The 8 and the 11 o'clock services are identical except for the seven baptisms at the 11 o'clock service.

Janice Lee Frakes, Joan Emily Frakes and Dale Eric Frakes, children of Mr. and Mrs. George Frakes, 98 Martha Road, will be baptized, together with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jackson of 94 Meadow View Road and their two children, Sandra Lee and Linda Marie Jackson.

The Sunday School meets at 9:30 with classes and a program centered around India, as given by the Confirmation class.

Your hometown merchant guarantees everything he sells. Remember, it costs several dollars for tires, gas and oil when you go through the tunnel to shop.

Ray Welles and Jack Biersdorf, students at the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley, serve as counsellors of the youth activities.

Stover is president of the Western Employers Service.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

The new "Central Orinda Proposed Land Use Analysis" by Francis Violich makes clear to Orindans the basic questions we must decide upon. They are:

1. Shall we conserve the most desirable and feasible Town Center properties for our ultimate civic requirements while they are still available? Or shall we allow them to be taken up for less significant commercial uses?

2. Shall Orinda encourage commercial development on a scale beyond the serving of Orinda residents by welcoming industrial administrative and commercial operations of a regional or national scope?

IT IS OBVIOUS that the current problem has its roots in the fact that for 20 years the EBMUD has been acting as a self-appointed planning commission for this community. In the present instance they have resorted to the device of price manipulation.

The price of Pine Grove land still zoned R-A which had been turned down for commercial rezoning was nevertheless inflated.

Because of this politically-tinged speculative maneuver, the people of Orinda are now being told they should repudiate the advice of planners who for 10 years have said the Pine Grove is our logical Town Center.

The EBMUD-PIE precept asks us to move our town center away from our schools and churches, jump across a future four-lane freeway, and locate it half-way up a steep mountainside.

AND WHY? Because a trucking concern wants to build a Taj Mahal national headquarters on the spot all planners designate as our Town Center.

If the price factor prevails in this case, we may assuredly expect the EBMUD to use this device again and again to change the face of our community. The price of dozens of land parcels can be manipulated to persuade the Planning Commission or people of this community to alter the master plan which was designed to protect the residential character of Orinda.

The entire community can be spotted with commercial developments ranging from a neighborhood shopping center in Sleepy Hollow to hotels to accommodate the salesmen who come to solicit the accounts of the numerous industrial offices which would follow PIE.

The next land to go this way would obviously be the pieces across from the Pine Grove area which were sold recently to private speculators. (Prices paid for these parcels indicate political promises for rezoning probably were thrown in for good measure.)

PERHAPS Orinda wishes to become the "Piedmont of Industry."

Since it would cost each home in Orinda approximately the price of one football ticket a year to buy the Pine Grove now and construct Stage 1 of the Violich plan, it is apparent that the price factor is completely negligible.

The choice is as simple as this:

"Does Orinda wis hto remain a rural residential community well planned to absorb its ultimate population or is it to become an exclusive location for national and regional industrial offices?"

Livingstons Plan Move to Seattle

Hart L. Livingston, 5 Virginia Drive, has become a partner in the Philip Spaulding Company, marine engineering consultants in Seattle.

Mrs. Livingston and young Larry and Kit are busy preparing to move north when school closes. Livingston has been active for several years in improvement association and planning work in Orinda.

Orindan's Brother Given Last Rites

Funeral services for Joseph Kidd, brother of Alec Kidd of 93 Underhill Road, were held Monday in San Francisco.

Joseph Kidd, 73, died Friday in a San Francisco hospital. A retired businessman, he was active in Elks Club affairs in the Golden Gate city.

He was a native San Franciscan.

Scout Salute...

Win Streak

Orinda Cub Pack 52 continued its winning streak on May 7 by trouncing Pack 225 by the score of 19 to 3.

The victory was the fourth for 52 and a great day for Pitcher Mike Smyth who struck out 16 while giving up only one hit. In addition, Smyth banged out 3 for 5 including a home run, a triple and a double.

The game was nip and tuck until the third when the 52 attack came to life. Don Hildebrandt doubled in three runs, and Bob Williams homered. Bruce Nickerson continued to pace the league with a lusty .538 average, and garnered 2 for 4 for the day.

Wildness hurt 225's chances in the fifth when, bunching hits and walks, the Glorietta Pack scored 10 runs. Batteries for 52 were, D. Hildebrandt, Smyth and Bob Hildebrandt and for 225, Davis, Winthers, Chapman and Thaxter.

The 52 B team won its third victory against no losses, beating the 225 B team in a close battle, 8 to 7.

Peek Ahead

The boys of Cub Scout Pack 211 will have the opportunity of looking into the future and seeing themselves as Boy Scouts when they meet tonight in the Social Hall of Orinda Community Church.

Three Eagle Scouts will be in attendance to talk to the pack and to show them a movie about scouting activities and what it means to be a Boy Scout.

A Webelos ceremony will be held for John Rinne, Jethroe Leiberman, Ricky Guinther, John Lemire, Steve Baker and Chris Felchlin, to mark their graduation from the pack and entry in scouting.

Other boys reciving awards include Roger Baldwin, Tom Cline, Kenneth Hamberg and Kenneth Zawala, qualifying for Wolf; Garth Hudelson, Cory Lowther, Craig Studley, Kendall Studley and Donald Winkler, Bear, and Barry Hutchinson, Lion.

Those receiving Gold and Silver Arrows on their Bear awards are Paul Kooyman, Robert Abbott, Neal Rose, Michael Sorem, Philip Gardner, Garth Hudelson, Cory Lowther and Donald Winkler.

Builders Discuss New Organization

The monthly dinner meeting of the Central Contra Costa Builders Exchange Monday night was highlighted by a discussion of the proposed new group called the "Association for the Development and Progress of Contra Costa County."

The proposed new organization has been suggested on behalf of the building and construction industry.

It revolves around criticism recently leveled against Chairman H.L. Cummings of the County Board of Supervisors and other county officials in connection with the handling of planning problems.

NO OFFICIAL representatives of the new organization were present at the Builders Exchange dinner at the Adobe in Concord Monday, but A. J. "Buck" Johnson of Walnut Creek, speaking as an individual, urged Exchange members to consider joining the new group.

Johnson, as well as Ed Larmer, who also spoke, told the Exchange that the new organization was needed among builders and developers to meet the friction and protests from other groups on planning in the county.

They spoke favorably of the County Board of Supervisors' actions in handling building and development problems.

Larmer spoke out against the federal government's holding of the inactivated Camp Stoneman and the enlarging of the Port Chicago Naval Magazine.

EXCHANGE PRESIDENT Hans Wachsnuth Jr., Secretary Vic Engle and First Vice-President Les Iford stated the Exchange by-laws prevented it from becoming part of another organization.

It was pointed out, however, that members of the Exchange could join organizations such as the proposed new group, as individuals.

Iford took sharp issue with statements praising the County Board of Supervisors.

HE SAID, "WE have so much friction because there is no public confidence in the governing body. The public has seen the board take a strong stand on an issue one day and then reverse itself the next."

He added, "The criticism against the board is largely well-based. The members don't seem to make decisions on what is right or wrong, or on factual analysis, but on political expediency."

Iford also stated that not more organizations are needed but support of existing organizations would be beneficial.

HE SUGGESTED THE county board should hold more meetings on big planning and development problems in the areas concerned, and not in Martinez.

"You can't tie in the progress of the county with the present governing set-up," Iford said. "It's like trying to make an old broken down automobile perform like a new one."

Cardwell Again Heads Typo Union

M. F. Cardwell of Gregory Gardens was recently reelected to his fifth term as president of Martinez Typographical Union 597. He and other officers will take office June 5.

Others from Central Contra Costa County elected by the union include:

R. L. Clipson of Concord, vice-president; Carl G. DeTar of Concord, secretary-treasurer; N. R. Nye of Gregory Gardens, executive committee; Albert Vielbaum of Pleasant Hill, sergeant at arms; F. W. Johnson and R. E. McFarland, both of Concord, auditing committee; Leslie Carlson of Concord and N. H. Ripley of Walnut Creek, joint standing committee, and J. E. Kabat of Concord, election committee.

Cardwell and Vielbaum are employed by The Sun.

In a recent resolution the union urged that those responsible for purchasing printing for school districts, city and county governments and civic groups "be advised of the importance of the Typographical union label appearing on such work."

The resolution asked that such persons purchase future printing from "firms entitled to use said label and request the label to appear on their printing."

USE BOTH LANES

The purpose of good traffic control is to keep traffic moving. When you approach a traffic light and there's one line of cars waiting, double up by pulling into the other lane if you can do so, suggests the California State Automobile Association. That way you can help utilize the whole width of the roadway and keep traffic moving.

Women Voters to Talk Grass Roots

In keeping with the League of Women Voter's principle that "the local member makes the League," the next three meetings of the League in this area will be devoted to a grass-roots examination of what the League is doing, what it plans to do in the near future, and how it plans to accomplish these things.

The first item of the program will be a report on the state convention of the League which will be held in Sacramento Tuesday through yesterday.

Local delegates will report to the membership on measures adopted at the convention and specific legislation which Leagues throughout the state will support or oppose. Following this report there will be opportunity for each member to discuss how this agenda will be coordinated with the items of local study which have already been adopted.

Monday at 8 p.m. these topics will be discussed at the home of Mrs. John Holt, 115 Apricot Lane, Concord. Tuesday at 8 p.m., another group will meet at the home of Mrs. Andrew Kridl, 161 Harriet, Pleasant Hill.

The Wednesday night group will meet at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. William Ross, 161 Parkmead Court, Walnut Creek. Thursday at 1:30 p.m. another group will convene with Mrs. Henrik Blum, 450 Muller Road, Walnut Creek.

CC Officials to Be Hosted by Park Council

Several county officials, because of the interest they have shown and the cooperation received, will be honored at a dinner by the Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council, Tuesday at El Adobe, Concord.

Walnut Creek's City Attorney John Nejedly will act as Master of Ceremonies for the evening.

Ralph Shaw of San Mateo County will present facts and ideas. He will speak briefly on the need for acquisition of lands for a county park system and give information relative to other counties that are in the process of acquiring lands and how they are going about the development of a park system.

He will also show the unique color-sound film "Facts of Fun."

Some of the honored guests will include: members of the Board of Supervisors; Mr. J. L. Cummings, Mr. Ray Taylor, Mr. J. Fredericksen, Mr. W. C. Buchanan, and Mr. Ivan T. Goyak; Chairman of the County Planning Commission Mr. Thomas Heaton, Planning Technician Mr. Richard Stockwell, County Administrator Mr. Desmond Teater, and Park Commissioner Mr. Ralfe Miller.

Scouts to Compete For Awards at Diablo Camporee

Four tank trucks will provide cooking for some 2,400 Boy Scouts water for drinking, washing, and and Leaders at the Mt. Diablo Council Camporee, to be held Saturday and Sunday at the Council's new camp area on the Marsh Creek highway east of Concord, according to L. A. Dodge, Walnut Creek, Chairman of Physical arrangements.

Fire wood has been hauled into the area, as well as large oil drums to be used as garbage cans, All camping areas for more than 300 Patrols have been marked off. This job was an interesting operation in itself. Lines were first surveyed for the campsite boundaries and separating roadways.

EACH PATROL HAS a 25 ft. square in which to arrange its tents, cooking area, food storage, and camp sanitation facilities. The hand power mower, cutting an 18-marking-off was done by using a inch strip of grass for each line across the area.

Proving that they are best, or at least as good as the others, will be each patrol's objective from the time they are judged at check-in on the degree and quality of preparation — which includes menus, food, packs, uniform and personal appearance until the check-out Sunday afternoon.

Judging will be done by sixty men directed by Ted Cleveland of Berkeley.

TROOP LEADERS and other adults will camp in an area separate from that used by members of the Troops, thus insuring that the competition will be on a Boyled Patrol activity.

Each Patrol will work under a Patrol Leader, and each member will have an assigned responsibility as a member of the team.

Arrangements for parking have been made for use of the highway adjacent to the camp. There will be a first aid tent for emergencies. There is no poison oak within the camp area.

Fee for the Camporee has been established at 15 cents per Scout, payable by Patrols at the time of check-in at Marsh Creek.

Dentists to Enjoy Golf, Swim, Fun

Dr. Jack Smithers of Walnut Creek, Dr. John K. Hansen of Lafayette and Dr. Robert Cuenin of Danville will all take part in the fifth annual Golf Day sponsored by the East Bay Dental Conference Wednesday.

Over 350 dentists will take part in the day of golf and fun which will start with golf at 7:30 a.m. and end with a barbecue at 4 p.m.

There will also be swimming in the afternoon.

Wilson Clarifies Vote Prerogative

Voters for school trustees today may vote for only one candidate even though, as in a number of cases, two are to be elected, according to a statement from the district attorney's office. County Superintendent B. O. Wilson reports.

Wilson said an opinion was requested in answer to a question originiating in Orinda Union School District.

Deputy District Attorney Charles Hemmings has responded that although the ballot reads "Vote for two," it is his opinion that "a voter if he wishes may vote for just one candidate."

He said that California Education and Elections Codes afford the voter the privilege of balloting for the candidate or candidates he favors, regardless of, but not exceeding, the number to be elected.

Wilson stated that in more than half of the school districts two are to be eleced, with more than two candidates contesting for the trusteeships.

Concourse Will Show Girls, Cars

A million dollars' worth of automobiles and a bevy of beautiful models will be combined at the "Concours d'Elegance" Sunday afternoon at Diablo Country Club.

Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda owners of outstanding foreign sports cars, American versions of foreign sport cars, and "classics" will show their automobiles, and members of several branches of Children's Hospital of the East Bay, from these areas, will model at the event, which will benefit the hospital.

The cars will be shown from 12:30 until 5 p.m. and the fashion show will start at 2 p.m. All the cars in the "Concours" have won prizes at former road races, and the fashion show models will present the car owners with special blue ribbons on Sunday.

TICKETS WILL BE available at the club at $1 per person and 50 cents for children. A buffet dinner will be served at the club following the car and fashion show.

The "classic" cars to be shown are all outstanding examples of the coachmaker's art.

Probably the most unusual classic in the show will be the Cord owned by Ray De Vault of Walnut Creek. Among other Walnut Creek entries will be the Oldsmobile convertible "Starfire" owned by Robert Jurs; the Sunbeam Talbot Alpine Roadster, 1953, owned by Paul Melcher Varton; Gordon Van Nuy's Riley Salon, Marjorie Hindley's new Volkswagon and Mrs. Verda Rhode's Volkswagon.

FROM LAFAYETTE will be shown Robert Richardson's Aston-Martin DB2 fire-engine red convertible, Chick Leson's "OSCA," James Potts Jr.'s MG TD roadster and Dale Marcellini't Triumph TR2.

Mrs. William Keating of Orinda will show her Ferrari 1953 sports coupe, which took first place at the Pebble Beach road races in 1954.

Modeling beautiful clothes to complement the sports cars will be Poplar Branch members Mrs. William McGuire of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Rollin Moore and Mrs. John J. Reilly Jr. of Orinda.

CEDAR JUNIOR Branch will have as models Mesdames David B. Brunson, Gordon E. French and John K. Hansen, all of Orinda. Cottonwood Branch will have model Mrs. Philip Muscheid of Orinda. Bamboo Branch will have as models Mesdames William D. Douglas, Leland Hamilton and Harney Wilson, all of Orinda.

Heather Branch will contribute model Mrs. William C. Seifert of Orinda. Laurel Junior Branch will have Mrs. Lloyd Kindall of Walnut Creek, and Mrs. Lew Doty of Orinda will represent Linden Junior Branch.

Lombardy Branch fashion models will be the Mesdames George Merriam and R. P. Rasmussen of Orinda. Orinda Branch representatives include Mesdames John McFarland, Ernest Kahl and James MacDonald, all of Orinda.

Mrs. Richard Frost of Orinda will show for Rowan Branch. From Walnut Branch will be Mesdames Robert C. Harding and Mel Nielsen of Lafayette and Mesdames James C. McGeehon Jr., Robert N. Rowe and E. E. Rowland, all of Walnut Creek.

A TEA FOR some of her girl friends in her graduating class at Acalanes High School and their mothers was given Sunday by Patricia Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Myers of 714 Los Palos Drive, Lafayette. Nursery Dance at Diablo Tomorrow; Big Crowd Seen

More than 700 persons are expected tomorrow night for dinner, dancing and the general gaiety of the Orinda Nursery School's annual benefit.

Festivities officially begin at 7 when the bar at the Diablo Country will be open.

Dinner will be served at 9 followed by dancing to the music of Gordon Heche's orchestra until 2 a.m.

Anyone wishing to join the informal dinner dance may still obtain tickets from Mrs. Thomas Sibary, 8 Southwood Drive, Orinda, or may purchase them at the door.

Dance Chairman Mrs. David Lewis is being assisted in making arrangements for the affair by Mesdames Charles Snook Jr., Lloyd Swayne, Robert Brorsen and Frank Fuller.

Parties to precede the dance are being planned by many residents of Orinda and Lafayette. In Sleepy Hollow, Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Boyle, C. Freeman Bishop, Miles Sutliffe, Godfrey Gregg, Robert Harbarth and Albion Harmon will entertain before the dance.

A gathering of distinguished alumni from La Cuesta. Messrs. and Mesdames Russell Gilwie, C. W. Brock Jr., H. H. Fitzsimmons, J. Gordon Ainsworth and Robert Thaman, are planning a get-together in the neighborhood.

On the Moraga side parties will will be held at the homes of Messrs. and Mesdames Warren Arnett, Robert Angell, Gilbert Earle and Mesdames Lloyd Swayne Jr. and Wayne Bentley.

Harry Larsen are among those in the Lafayette area also planning pre-dance parties.

Party Heralds Engagement of Carol Ratto

The engagement of Carol Grace Ratto was heralded at a party Friday night at the Happy Valley home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ratto of 3977 Rancho Road.

The party followed the Senior Ball held at St. Joseph's High School in Berkeley. Carol, a senior at the school, invited about 15 of her friends and their dates to the Ratto home for the party.

Carol's fiance is Jack Caramella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benny Caramella of Reno. Jack is a senior at Minogue High School in the Nevada City.

His mother and Joanne, his sister, visited the Rattos over the weekend and were guests at the engagement party.

Carol has a sister, Maureen, who also attends St. Joseph's in Berkeley.

September 4 is the date set for the wedding.

NEWLYWEDS are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gordon Palin. The bride is the former Carol Marie Thomas, daughter of Mrs William Thomas of 3598 Walnut Street, Lafayette, and the late Mr. Thomas. Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Palin of 3920 LeRoy Way, Lafayette.—Photo by Mattson

Art Center's Dinner-Theater Fete Draws 150

Some 150 people attended last Sunday's dinner-theater party given by Valley Art Center, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

The 6:30 starting time found many couples gathered at the Orinda Willows restaurant, while others attended parties given by members. The Edmund Barnetts and the Frank Cashins of Walnut Creek were hosts at pre-dinner parties.

The Art Center reserved the entire theater for the show, "The Shrike," starring Harry Koval at the Kearney Street Inter-players theater in San Francisco.

Chairman of the event was Mrs. Fred Von Guenther, Walnut Creek. She was assisted by the Mesdames Arthur Wagstaff, Frank Cashin, Donald MacVean, all of Walnut Creek; and L. E. Scharmer and Mrs. J. Gordon Ainsworth, Orinda; Mrs. Harold Powell and Mrs. Ed Larmer, Lafayette; and Quentin Reynolds, Walnut Creek.

Members who entertained guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Peter Howard, Quentin Reynolds, Ted Sawyer, Michael Czaja, Arthur Wagstaff, Frank Cashin and Edmund Barnett, Walnut Creek; J. Dr. John Ellis, Lafayette; J. Gor-Rawlings Simon, G. E. Max and don Ainsworth, Arthur Sassone, William C. Hagen and Hal Babbitt, Orinda.

Many Attend Country Affair At Lovely Dollar Estates

An attendance of nearly 2000 rewarded the members of the Oakland Junior League for their "Country Affairs" at the estates of the Robert S. Dollar and R. Stanley Dollar, Jr. in Walnut Creek.

The event took place on Friday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. with the two lovely homes and gardens on display and with added attractions such as the fashion shows at 12:30, 2 and 4 by the pool and refreshments served on the terrace at the Senior Dollars' home.

AT THE JUNIOR Dollars' home there were interesting displays of wonderful foods and recipes in the making.

The following members were door hostesses, announced Mrs. Weyand Milton, chairman of the tour.

At the Dollar Srs.' home, Mesdames Merrill Jordan, Jerome Magee and George Hall attended.

At the Dollar Jrs.' home, Mesdames Charles T. Wood, William Platt and Elden Peterson were the greeters.

OTHER MEMBERS who assisted as hostesses throughout the day at the Senior Dollars' were Mesdames Peter Ponting, Irving Julius, Richard Ward, Frank Dickey, Hugh Lowther, Robert Von de Leith, Joseph Knowland and Robert Spott.

At Mrs. Dollar Jr.'s the young ladies were Mesdames Robert Hammill, James Felchlin, Robert Angell, William Allen, Jack Dana, Karl Schevill, John Bailey, John Williams, Edgar Chappell and Norman Millar.

THE COMMITTEE members who worked all day were Mesdames Weyand Milton, James Felchlin and John Beckett.

Local brunches and luncheons preceding the tour were given by Mesdames Lloyd Swayne Jr., Harvey Lyons, Richard Lyons, John Adams, Robert Spott, Peter Ley and Peter Ponting.

THE DINING rooms at Orinda and Diablo Country Clubs were open to the public for cocktails and luncheon.

An added attraction of the day were the flower arrangements by Mrs. Edward C. Counter.

PH Women Install Officers

Guests at the dinner and installation meeting of the Pleasant Hill Women's Club May 9 at Stan's Brick House were Mrs. Jacob C. Maasdam of Oakland, past president of Alameda District and currently recording secretary of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs .W. Howard Walter, newly installed president of the Contra Costa Federation of Women's Clubs

Mrs. Maasdam installed the first slate of elected officers of the club which was organized in November with 28 charter members and has been in operation under a set of temporary officers.

PREFACING HER installation instruction to the officers with a short talk, she stressed the importance of a clubwoman's loyalty first to her club officers, then to the club, county, district, and State; and that to make a club successful, co-operation is needed from all.

Officers installed included: Mesdames Edward O'Brien, president; Harold Jachens, first vice-president; Burl Brubaker, second vice-president; William Dooley, recording secretary; George Cail, corresponding secretary; L. R. Wise Jr., treasurer; Arthur LaFond, and Roand DeRoca, auditors and Mesdames Walter Voigt, Armond Frechette and William Totherow, board of directors.

Baby orchid corsages were presented to guests and officers received corsages of raspberry colored carnations. The president was presented with an orchid corsage. The installing officer and Mrs. Walter were presented with corsages of gardenias and roses, and gifts of appreciation from the club.

SILVERED LEAVES, pink and purple spring flowers, and pink candles decorated the tables. Place cards decorated with lavender colored shells carried out the color scheme.

Serving on the committee for dinner arrangements and reserations were: Mesdames Jachens, Norman Danieka, Leonard Griffith, Cailand DeRoca.

During a short business meeting, tentative plans were made for a family picnic to be held during the summer under the chairmanship of Mrs. Burl Brubaker, assisted by Mrs. William Totherow.

A membership tea will be held in the fall and tentative plans for a fashion show under the chairmanties chairman; Mrs. Tethorw, ways and means, and Mrs. Brubaker, membership.

This is your community! Attend meetings, participate, vote. Read about what is happening.

OES Enjoys Party Night

A Line Officers "Do It Yourself" Party was given by Almona Chapter 214 Order of Eastern Star Friday evening in Walnut Creek Masonic Temple.

Officers honored were Margaret Hinds, associate matron; Mike Marshall, associate patron; Alta Rosel, conductress; Josephine Marshall, associate conductress and their Easy Bay associates.

Two musical numbers were played by a trio from Parkmead School, Brook Ralston, Lynne Ralston and Gordon Owens, violin pupils of Mario Ganio. The boys were introduced and directed by Mrs. Evelyn Gibson, vocal instructor, also of Parkmead.

A two act "Do It Yourself" skit was presented by the Line Officers assisted by Ralph Hinds and David Hinds, husband and son of the associate matron. The program was enjoyed by more than 190 members and guests.

Hazel McCarthy and Joyce French were co-chairmen. After the party and entertainment members and friends were invited to the beautifully decorated banquet room where delicious refreshments were served by the committee, Loween Able, Winifred Silvia and Roslyn Halstead.

NDGW Lists Delegates to Convention

At last week's meeting of Las Amigas Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, Mrs. Maureen Cahill and Mrs. Vera Kleckner were elected delegates to the 69th annual session of the Grand Parlor, which will convene June 20 at Stockton.

Miss Doris M. Gerrish of Elk Grove, Grand President of the Order, will preside over the convention. Mrs. Ethel Donald and Mrs. Helen Robinson were elected alternate delegates by the local parlor.

MRS. PHYLLIS IVERSON, Parlor Chairman for the Native Daughters' Children's Foundation disclosed that plans have been completed for a special program and social for the Wednesday meeting for the benefit of the handicapped and needy children of the state which are being cared for by the Grand Parlor Committee.

A check from the local parlor will be drawn and forwarded to the Grand Parlor Chairman, Past Grand President Jewel McSweeney of San Francisco, at this meeting for their share in this child welfare project.

MRS. GLADYS WEILL, chairman of the "Native Stitchers," the local Parlor's sewing club, reported that a dessert card party was held at the home of Mrs. Ethel Donald on Moraga Boulevard, Lafayette, Wednesday. Proceeds will be used to purchase materials for the sewing group.

Mrs. Ford appointed Mrs. Helen Robinson social chairman for next Wednesday's meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Teas Honor Senior Girls

Acalanes High School senior girls were honored with two teas last weekend in Lafayette.

On Saturday afternoon all the girls of the senior class were guests at the home of Mrs. Thorvald Jacobsen, 3242 Gleniside Drive. On Sunday afternoon, some 60 guests, including the seniors and their mothers gathered at the home of Mrs. Gibert W. Myers, 714 Los Palos Drive.

Receiving guests at the door of the Jacobsen home were Mrs. Jacobsen and her daughter, Linda, and Mrs. Ross J. Burns and her daughter, Elizabeth.

Mrs. Milton Adair and Mrs. Fred Knobel presided at the tea table. Senior girls who helped serve were Sue Adair, Carol-lyn Brackett, Diana Kercheval, Sue Lamberth, Barbara Lawrence and Kathy Vale.

Patricia Myers was co-hostess with her mother at the Sunday afternoon tea.

Mrs. Vern Money, Mrs. Howard Laney, Priscilla Myers and Patsy Nimmo helped serve at the tea table.

Special guests were Mrs. Fred Knobel from Lafayette and Mrs. Joseph Rupley from Orinda, and her mother, Mrs Houston McCroskey, of Spokane, Wash.

AAUW Works for Educational TV

There's a good chance you can get better reception of the Bay Area Education TV Station KQED, Channel 9, if you want to try.

The Walnut Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women has just completed a reception survey for KQED, it was announced by Mrs. John A. Buckland, education chairman, and receied good reports from many areas.

A phoning committee headed by Mrs. John G. Stephens checked on the reception reported by nearly 150 A.A.U.W. members in this area, for the purpose of giving KQED engineers an idea of how sharp or how snowy their picture is here

A BREAKDOWN OF the answers received show if you live in the Lakewood area, near Montecito School, or in the Moraga-Glorietta area, the chances are you can get excellent reception. If you live further east in Sun Valley, in the Walnut Creek area, or in Walnut Heights, most of you should be able to get good reception with the proper antenna. In most of Pleasant Hills fair reception is possible.

If you live near the Monument, or in the Walden area, you are going to have trouble, although a high antenna may help you. If you live in Orinda, Lafayette, or Gregory Gardens, you can try, but you will be lucky to get a good Channel 9 picture. Reception in these areas is spotty and most people are blanked out.

IF YOU LIVE in Reliez Valley, around Arlene Drive, or in the Alamo-Danville area, KQED just can't reach you with its relatively small transmitter formerly used by Channel 5 on top of the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco.

Just what is the secret of getting the snow out of Channel 9 when your neighbors have a clear picture? The best chances of improvement are with a "high gain" Channel 9 Yagi antenna, properly installed. This antenna is very similar to the special Channel 10 and Channel 13 antennas you occasionallly see.

IT HAS SHORTER bars than your regular antenna, and is tailormade to fit the shorter wave length of Channel 9 and to pull in the best picture for you. A TV man will install one for you for about $15 in the areas mentioned above that show possibilities.

Work Of Many Young People To Be at Student Art Show

Art work of kindergarten through high school students from over 40 schools in Central Contra Costa County and products of special art classes sponsored by Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek art groups will be displayed at the countywide Student Art Show at the Valley Art Center, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Thursday through Sunday, May 29.

Te be held in the outdoor area of the Valley Art Center, the exhibit will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults, and free for students and children. Refreshments will be served.

BLAIR WERNESS and Mrs. F. Funk are working on the design of the show, which will be entered through "the hall of giants" large figures done by kindergarten children, and beware the Lion!

There will be a craft tree garden with a pond — the trees hung with crafts done by the children.

In the art-in-action section, children will be working under a colorful ceiling of hanging mobiles, and visitors will see just what young artists are doing. Along with the pictures on exhibit will be occasional display cases with ceramic work.

Throughout the show a carnival theme will prevail.

EACH AFTERNOON there will be entertainment, with dance groups, art-in-action and teacher-demonstration classes.

Mrs. Glenn Max and Mrs. J. P. Garretson, general chairmen, hope to make this first Student Art Show an annual affair.

Others in charge are:

Mesdames Rawlings Simon, president of the Valley Art Center; H. G. Noack, Peter Howard, Harry Lavaggetto, W. E. Hampton, L. C. Kennedy, William Ornduff, Don Waldman, Duncan Knudsen, George Clifford, DeWitt Krueger, J. D. Bauer, R. H. Goodale, Spencer Archer, Austin Sperry and Theodore J. Clark, and Vera Richardson, Carolyn Foote and Mrs. Nelson.

CLUBS WISHING to schedule meetings with coffee and cookies during any day of the exhibit may request the art-in-action demonstration in which they are particularly interested; arrangements can be made in advance with Mrs. Goodale, CL 4-5810.

Children's groups may tour the exhibit; leaders may call Mrs. Kennedy, AT 3-2850, for a reservation.

MEMBERS OF the Cooperative Art Association, sponsoring group of the children's art classes of Lafayette and Walnut Creek, will act as hostesses and gallery guides for the show.

Hostess Chairman Mrs. H. G. Naock, has appointed the following to assist:

Door Hostesses: Mesdames John Garretson, Donald Waldman, John Funk, Theodore J. Clark, John Nowland, Carl Huffaker, DeWitt Kruger, Raymond W. Fischer, Lloyd Zumwalt, Vincent Lombardo, Charles David, Albert Alexander, A. R. Holland and Harvey Wehmeir.

Gallery Guides. Mesdames R. H. Goodale, John Kennedy, Donald Whitehouse, Thorvald Jacobsen, Kenneth Bone, Ellen Jackson, Richard Kelly, Fred Von Guenthner, William Hampton, A. G. Hardy, Milton Claussinius, Robert Richardson, Austin Sperry and Richard Darmstead.

Orioles Will Elect Officers

Orioles, auxiliary unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, will elect officers at a regular monthly meeting Wednesday.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lance S. Barden, 44 Crest View Drive, Orinda, starting at 12:30 p.m.

Pete Prefers 'em Proper

Mrs. Peter Gagoush, San Francisco

"Pete likes his shirts stiff-starched . . . and with new concentrated Vano Liquid Starch I do 'em up proper. I dip Pete's shirts in undiluted Vano . . . then add water for my other things. Vano-starched shirts iron so well, and easy too. I'm never troubled with ugly gloss spots."

About Our Happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

Recipe for an unrounded diet

The udernourished Rotarians went to the country and this is what they ate. For one meal, mind you, two filet mignons apiece, baked potatoes, potato salad, baked beans — no lettuce, no carrots and no fresh fruits in season and that, according to what we read in the diet book, is the sort of thing which cotributes to juvenile vitamin deficiencies.

So — in their starved state, they cogitated upon the requirements of the forthcoming breakfast.

Mounds — yea, verrily, mountains of bacon and eggs served piping hot — and bales of beautiful sweet rolls served practically frozen — because it seems the Rotarians were unacquainted with one of the facts of life which every woman knows — ie. — if you want it all to arrive on the table at the same time you have to cook it all at once — not in shifts.

Anyway all this had to do with the second annual jaunt to Stanley Allen's ranch which he bought from the Indians (factually) and named Poverty Acres (actually).

It is situated at the bottom of Yosemite (wherever that is) and the trip is ostensibly for the purpose of fishing and/or relaxing — or so they tell their wives.

It is our private suspicion they don't do anything of the kind because, for one thing, it rained the whole time, and who would go wading around in streams with rain dripping off the end of his nose to catch an undersized trout when back at the ranch there were: two filets, a warm fire, congenial company and a deck of cards!

The gentlemen who perpetrated this hoax on their unsuspecting (?) wives were Messrs. Stanley Allen, host; George Eberhart, president; Ramsay Underwood, Maynard Buehler, Earl Cappel, Herbert Hauser, Leighton MacGregor, Standish Massie, Frank Shirey, Robey Smith, Joe Duffel and Thomas Horton.

The head of the committee was Mr. Cappel of Pontiac fame who backed one of his trucks up to Mr. Phair's food emporium and, just like a vacuum cleaner, whooshed in all those groceries for Saturday and Sunday a week ago.

Back in the pink after weeks in the red

And now about some ladies — the Holabird girls are right in the pink after having spent recent weeks hopelessly in the red. Sally started things going in a vexatious fashion by contracting poison oak and on top of that — scarlet fever. (Can you fancy a worse combination?) Carol began to look odd so the family got out the scarlet fever pills but her ailment developed into the worst case of measles on record. All is well now.

Mary Hervey, ex of this area, but now living in Connecticut, passed through San Francisco recently on her way to the Islands. Before sailing, Mrs. Bruce Anderson hostessed the following group for luncheon at the Matador: Mesdames Hugh Lenahan, Paul Demeter, Jack Carlson, Lindsey Hafer, Lloyd Swain Jr., Jack Watson, William Andrews, Charles Wood, Thomas Stevenson, Elliot MacSwain and Martin Holt. She will return in a few weeks to spend some time with her Bay Area friends.

If you heard peacocks shrieking last Friday, it wasn't some unannounced alarm turned loose — it was the Junior League House Tour at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dollar Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dollar Jr., neighbors in Saranap.

Some of the highlights — three living rooms in one home — one a converted garden room draped in white chintz with soft shades of blue and violet, antique furniture in gold leaf, crystal chandeliers and a collection of Meissen and Dresden glowing in the unreal light of a translucent ceiling . . . a pool where the water enters from the mouths of decorative fish. Acres of lawn grounding an orchard interspersed with hawthorne, wisteria and camellias in blue pots. Sauntering here and there among the guests were Joseph Magnin manequins and those peacocks, looking, of course, more beautiful than anything else.

Katherine Wynn Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Watson — 6 pounds and 4 ounces — was born last week.

Just landed in Amsterdam — George Hauerken — whose going-away party three Fridays ago was a roaring success.

Gifts, advice and good wishes all free of charge but wouldn't you know — the night of the surprise party was the first time in years he arrived home a half-hour early!

They're keeping it a deep, dark secret

Who are the two nursery school papas who are going to put on a wow of a surprise floor show at the nursery school dance tomorrow? Nobody will tell us. We did find out that pre-party groups for cocktails were being planned by Messrs. and Mesdames David Lewis, Leonard Roth, Lloyd Swaine, Warren Arnett, H. O. Thomas, Elbert Wayne and Eugene Estes. For tickets call Mrs. Thomas Sibary at CL 4-5519.

Tennessee Williams with his "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" has nothing on the local Valley Art Center group preparing for the student art show to be held May 26 through 29.

Under the guidance of Mesdames Rawlings Simon, Glen Max and John Garretson they are making first class sheet metal workers out of various husbands and friends. It seems the whole thing started with a gift of three tons of sheet metal from Donn Sigerson for the purpose of roofing the exhibits, coffee bar and storage sheds.

In order to make it resemble the Bay Bridge (for what reason we are not sure) Robert Neuhaus provided 15 gallons of red lead paint. "Pete" Funk (W.F.) arrived toting six poles 24-feet long to hoist flags and lights. Everyone has been working like a billy goat for this amalgamation of student art work from Central Contra Costa County, kindergarten through high school, as represented by public schools and cooperative art groups. Admission is 50 cents, which includes refreshments.

Willing workers have been Hal Babbitt, Glen Max, Michael Czaja, Bill Powell, Rawlings Simon and Bob Brackenbury. Mrs. Arthur Sassone is in charge of refreshments.

Incidentally some who turned up for the opening of the recent Achenbach collection at the Art Center were: Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Knudsen, Drs. and Mesdames William Ornduff and John Ellis and Messrs. and Mesdames Lee Searight, Irving Roemer, Frank Brown, Clarence Busby, Robert Clough, Leon Dinkin, Fred Cashin, Arthur Wagstaff, Peter Howard, Fred Von Guenthner, W. R. Spackman, William Hagens, Floyd Helm, Fred Confer and Claude Waldo. The committee: Mesdames Phillips Merrill, Charles Bosley, Forest Engelhart, John Havens and Arthur Sassone.

A theater party added to it all

As though that weren't enough, they held a theater party Sunday night.

First dinner at the Willows, then into town for "The Shrike."

Assisting Mrs. Fred Van Guenthner were Mesdames Arthur Wagstaff, Frank Cashin, Donald MacDean, L. C. Sharmer, Quentin Reynolds, Harold Powell, Ed Larmer and Gorden Ainsworth.

Stately, low-slung beauties on parade

The beauties will follow each other in stately procession flaunting form, color and ability to a vast and admiring audience. In their glowing pride (knowing perfectly well they are the selected few) they will move with controlled deliberation and poised pauses — the more remarkable because actually they are sleek for speed and would like nothing better than to leap from the crowd and spin through the hills and valleys like Diana unleashed — fit companion for the breeze, light but fleet.

Bahting beauties at Atlantic City? Well no. Whippets before a race? Well no. What is it? Why the Concours d'Elegance of course — a collection of million dollar babies — actually a million dollars worth of sport cars — and the cream of the crop.

They have been carefully chosen from previous Concours (like the one recently at Pebble Beach) and you are invited to see them Sunday afternoon at Diablo Country Club — $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Also a fashion show and, if hungry or thirsty, something to take care of that too.

Go and take the children for the afternoon and satisfy the urge to get a good look at those domestic and imported sport cars calculated to make Papa feel young again, Mama feel chic, and Junior feel like something he shouldn't.

That is all.

Mills Groups Hold Meeting

Members of Orinda and Mt. Diablo Mills Clubs met May 12 at the home of Mrs. John Goldeen on Moraga Highway for a talk by John Wheatman of Jackson's. He illustrated his topic, "Color in Suburban Homes," with many samples.

At a recent business meeting, Orinda Mills Club elected its new officers.

Mrs. Warren Dexter will continue as president. Vice-president is Mrs. Walter Edwards; secretary, Mrs. Richard Copenhagen; treasurer, Mrs. John Goldeen; publicity, Mrs. John Barkley, and student recommendation, Mrs. Stuart Henderson and Mrs. Channing Kilburn.

Hospital Group Plans Luncheon

The La Cuna Alegra Cradle of Booth Memorial Hospital in Oakland is meeting at the home of Mrs. S. W. Johnson, 2795 Cherry Lane, Walnut Creek, Monday, at 12:30 p.m.

This, the final meeting this season, will be a benefit luncheon for the hospital, and co-hostesses with Mrs. Johnson will be Mrs. A. N. Herring, 31 Ravenwood Drive, Mrs. Lewis Buletti, 11 Maywood Drive, Walnut Creek, and Mrs. G. Neimann, 1605 Reliez Valley, Lafayette,

Business matters will be terminiated, new officers elected, the year's efforts appraised, and plans made to meet again in September.

'Mother's Tea' Draws Big Crowd To Acalanes

A capacity crowd of Acalanes High School mothers, their daughters and female members of the Don faculty filled the Acalanes gym recently of the school's annual "Mother's Tea."

The program, centered around the theme, "Spring Fever," featured students in the home economics department modeling clothes made in sewing classes; music by Beth Johnson, Katie Jones, Sandy Sondag, Kathy Trembath, Gail Sheehan and Ann Kalbfleisch, and girls in the Acalanes Modern Dance Group directed by Miss Millicent Hamburger.

Student officers of the Acalanes Girls' League sponsoring the program were Catherine Greub, Sally Pedder, Elley Gardner, Rita Wood, Lenore Radonich, Loretta Scalinetti, Lynne Henrietta and Sally Adair.

Faculty advisors for the affair were Miss Lily Lahti, dean of girls, Miss Helen Peterson and Mrs. Shirley Frazier, home economics instructors.

Dons Beat Rams, To Become Sole Top-Spot Holders

It was the big one Tuesday when the Acalanes Dons and the Pleasant Hill Rams varsity baseball team crossed bats at the Acalanes diamond in a league game, as the two were tied for tops with identical 6-2 records.

The Dons broke loose with a barrage of hits that toppel the Rams from the top spot with a resounding 10-3 win.

Acalanes showed they were "on" as far as hitting was concerned, early in the game when Paul Miller, swift Don centerfielder found one to his liking and rammed a jet-propelled ball over the centerfielder's head, good for a grand slam home run, as Pitcher Ray Johansen had gotten himself in hot water when he issued three walks in a row.

MILLER HAD scored in the opening frame when he led off with a single, advanced to second when Don Babcock walked, went to third on Rich Markstein's bunt and came scurrying home when Red Jones poled one to deep right.

That made it 5-0 at the end of the second as Jones, throwing effective ball for the Dons, put only one man on.

It was a different story and a new game in the third, however, when the Rams, fighting back, scored three runs on a base on balls, a double, a single, another single and two Acalanes miscues.

Johansen walked, Walt Robb doubled, Bob La Fontaine was on when Jerry Coakley bobbled one at short, and Johansen scored.

ROBB AND La Fontaine scored when a ball off the bat of Bill Nixon was completely misjudged by the Dons' rightfielder, Dick Jarrett.

Nixon ended up on second but Jones put the fire out when he struck out John Black after working to a 1-2 count.

The Dons went down in short order in the third, with but four men coming to bat, the extra one getting on via the walk route.

JONES RETIRED the side in order in the fifth and sixth.

The Dons, meantime, garnered four more runs in the fourth on four singles and a walk.

Run number 10 came in the fifth, with Al Sutton scoring after singling. Paul Miller, who had a perfect day at bat with four for four, drove him in with his final blow, a sharp single to center.

THE RAMS CAME to life in the final seventh, when Jim McMillan singled, but it all ended when Steve Buckman was out on a grounder, short to first, and Jones added strikeouts 13 and 14 at the expense of the next two batters, to wind up the old ball game.

Jones gave up four hits, while Pitchers Johansen and La Fontaine, who relieved in the second, along with Dick Egan, who took over in the fourth, gave up nine safeties.

Top sticker for Acalanes was Paul Miller, with his grand slam home run and three singles, making four for four, while best at the plate for the Rams were Walt Robb and Bill Nixon, who each accounted for a double in three tries.

Diablo Captures Subsection Track Varsity Honors

Mt. Diablo played host to the North Coast Subsection I meet last Friday and then proceeded to take top honors in the varsity meet, while Berkeley High edged Pittsburg in the Bees only because Pitt fouled up in the relay on a bad baton pass.

The meet involved the Alameda County Athletic League and the two sections of the Diablo Valley League.

Place winners are eligible to compete in tomorrow's North Coast Section meet at Berkeley.

FINAL VARSITY scores were:

Mt. Diablo 52⅓, Richmond 41-5/6, Pittsburg 37½, Hayward 15, Alhambra and El Cerrito 13, Berkeley 12, San Ramon 11, San Lorenzo 10⅓, Acalanes 6⅓, Encinal 5, Las Lomas 3 and Pleasant Hill 1⅓.

IN THE BEES it was:

Berkeley 46½, Pittsburg 39⅔, El Cerrito 39⅓, Encinal 24, Mt. Diablo 22⅓, Richmond 15½, San Lorenzo 8, Alameda 8, San Ramon 6, Las Lomas 5, Hayward 3 and Albany 1.

Larry Pilcher with a fifth in the 440 and George Coad with a tie for first at 12 feet in the pole vault accounted for the Acalanes varsity points.

LAS LOMAS got its three points in varsity when Wingett was third in the 440, while the Pleasant Hill points came on Friborg's fifth in the mile run.

In the Bees the Dons and Rams were shut out, with Las Lomas placing Weckerle second in the 660-yard event.

Former Acalanes High School Athletes Do Stellar Duty in Collegiate Sports

By ERWIN MATTSON

THE BIGGEST recent track meet in collegiate circles was the big meet between Stanford and Cal, which found several ex-Dons playing prominent parts.

Eric Murray, ex-Don competing as a junior at Cal, tossed the varsity discus 156 feet for first.

In the Cal-Stanford frosh meet, a pair of 1954 Don grads did their stuff, only on the other side of the fence — for Stanford.

Ray Williamson took the shot with a heave of 47 feet, 9⅜ inches, while Jim Hart was second at 46 feet, 5 inches.

In the frosh discus, Hart was tops at 146 feet, 7 inches, while Williamson was third at 129 feet, 11 inches.

Another Don grad who is doing all right, in the swimming world, is Brooks DeLaneux, who two weeks ago won trophies in the California Junior College swim meet held at Vallejo, for high point man as well as the outstanding performer.

He hit the headlines again when he broke the national junior college record in the 200-yard backstroke, when he negotiated the distance in a record-breaking 2:30.8 in the national meet held at Costa Mesa.

Brooks' time was 2:30.8, which smashed the mark of 2:34.5 set by Ralphy Whitney of El Camino earlier this year.

Brooks' sister, Valerie, has been setting some swimming marks of her own while attending Purdue University.

Little League Baseball Resumes Action As Weatherman Favors with Fair Skies

Las Lomas Nine Edged by Dons To Tune of 4-2

The Acalanes Dons trimmed the Las Lomas Knights in a league baseball game at the Walnut Creek diamond May 12 by a narrow 4-2 score.

The Dons started off well enough, with Dick Jarrett singling with two away in the first, going to second on a pass ball and scoring when Red Jones followed with a single.

The Dons made it 4-0 in the top of the second when they tallied three on five hits, with the big blow a double off the bat of Don Babcock.

THE KNIGHTS got into the scoring act when they scored two in the third.

Shortstop Kenley singled with one away, and when Pet Cook flew out to the first baseman, Jim Dinkey, Bob Kinyon followed with a sharp single to center, scoring Kenley.

Kinyon scored seconds later on Arnold Lahdy's single to right when the Don rightfielder, Andy Fadelli, threw the ball out of the park.

Catcher Kinney ended the inning when he went down swinging on three straight strikes.

THAT PUT the score 4-2 in the Dons' favor, and that's the way it stayed.

Las Lomas threatened in the fifth with what appeared to be a rally, with runners on first and second and none away.

It fell short when Kinyon, who was on second, was called out on interference in a much disputed play, and from there on out the game settled down, as Red Jones for Acalanes and Dick Stanley for Las Lomas had matters well in hand.

LAS LOMAS collected seven safe blows over the seven-inning route, while the Dons had eight, with five coming in the second frame.

Six Dons whiffed on the slants Stanley, while Jones accounte for five in the "K" column.

Jarrett and Jones paced the Acalanes stickers, each getting two for four, all blows being of the single variety.

Lahde was top for the Knights with a pair of singles in four tries at the plate.

Little League baseball had been at pretty much of a standstill for two weeks, due to wet grounds, but last week the weatherman sent fair skies, and with them all six league teams swung into action.

Top game of the afternoon last Saturday was between the Red Sox and the Indians. The Red Sox, behind the no-hit pitching of Garry Brekke and Jack Danton, rode to a 7-0 win, gathering eight hits in the process.

Ross Legg was behind the mask for the Red Sox, while it was Frank Sammann for the Indians. Tom Strain and Tim Bruns hurled for the losers.

THE DODGERS defeated the Giants 5-2 and also win in the hit department, 6-5.

Ron Hufft and Bob Gillham were the winning chuckers, with Ron Pernosky receiving.

It was Stump Lamphere and John Dinkel throwing for the Giants, with Jack Carman receiving.

IN THE NIGHTCAP the Braves proved to be winners by a 7-5 margin over the Yankees, although it was 6-all in the hit department.

Jim Spiler and Charles Jones received credit for the win, with Guy Ross catching.

John Carreira and Cris Rinne were on the mound for the Yanks, with Jay Williams behind the plate.

TOMORROW finds another round of play on tap, with a pair of games at 1:30 p.m. and another two at 3:30.

At 1:30 it's the Braves vs. the Red Sox and the Indians vs. the Giants.

The 3:30 games feature the Dodgers vs. the Yankees, with the Larks and Orioles showing at the same time.

Babe Ruth Team

Sponsored by Kellys Sportsgoods in Lafayette, teams are forming in Walnut Creek to make up the Babe Ruth League.

Coached by Peter Viara, a team made up of 13-15 year-old students of Walnut Creek grammar schools and Las Lomas High, won their first league game Sunday in a 5-4 victory against a Pleasant Hill team.

Acalanes Golfers

The Acalanes Don golfers held a three-way meet with Piedmont and San Mateo at the Orinda Country Club course last Friday, and when the swinging was all over and divots had been replaced, the Dons had split, defeating San Mateo 9-6 while losing to Piedmont's Highlanders 10-8.

North Coast Play Set for Weekend For Swim, Track

Baseball and tennis wound up dual league play yesterday and the only major thing lying ahead in area prep sports, after this weekend, is the North Coast Section tennis competition, as the scheduled baseball tournament was canceled out at the last minute.

Swimming involves the North Coast Section trials at Santa Clara today and the finals tomorrow. Both start at 10 a.m.

Track winds up with the North Coast Section meet, starting at 1 p.m. tomorrow, wih tthe University of California's Edwards Field the scene of action.

Qualifiers are to go on to the State Meet, set for the Los Angeles Coliseum on Saturday, May 28.

GOLF STILL has three weeks to go, winding up on Monday, June 6.

Next Monday it's Pleasant Hill and Mt. Diablo at the Contra Costa Club, while Las Lomas plays San Ramon at the Diablo Counrty Club.

Acalanes and Pittsburg have at it over the Pittsburg Club course, to round out the week's play.

ALHAMBRA has dropped out of play, so Antioch draws a bye.

Golf has a big meet on May 27, starting at 2 p.m., when the county championship match play gets under way at the Orinda Country Club.

Dons Cop Varsity Swimming Title

Last Saturday the Acalanse Don mermen, under Coach Tom Stamper, scored a win, to retain the county varsity title, which they have held for more than 10 consecutive years.

The closest contender, Mt. Diablo, which had defeated the Dons in dual competition earlier in the season, ended up well behind the Dons wiht 48 points to Acalanes' 62½, for the runnerup spot.

The meet, held at the Las Lomas pool, found Las Lomas next with 36, John Swett 20, Livermore 12, Pleasant Hill 11 and San Ramon 2.

DIABLO WAS the power in the Bees, winning by a wide margin with 88 points.

Las Lomas was runnerup with 30, John Swett had 26, Acalanes 24, Pleasant Hill 20, San Ramon 11, Liberty 9 and Albany 5.

IN THE VARSITY meet, first place winners among the "locals" were Wingette (L.L.) in the 50-yard freestyle, 26.5; Harrison (Ac.) in the 200-yard freestyle, 2:03; Tim Freeman (Ac.) in the 100-yard backstroke, 1:11.9; Charles Knobel (Ac.) in the 100-yard freestyle, 59.2; Val Geissler (Ac.) in the 150-yard individual medley, 1:52.8.

Acalanes took the 200-yard medley relay, with Freeman, Harrison and Knobel, in 1:27.3, while the Don 200-yard freestyle relay trio, consisting of Maloney, Freeman and Pilcher, won in 1:46.4.

Vines Are Highly Adaptable Plants

One of the most adaptable of plants is the vine, for in its many varieties it can be used to enhance someparticular architectural line in of the house, provide a windbreak, set aside an area especially for outdoor living or serve purely as an ornament.

Gardeners who have a certain spot they want to "spruce up" will find a great many ornamental vines to choose from.

Timely Advice Offered by New Garden Checklist

The Garden Checklist for this week points out:

1. Most nurseries are now offering tuberous begonia plants which can be transplanted into the garden.
2. There is no need for gladiolus to be ruined by thrips. Your nurseryman can recommend an effective dust or spray.
3. Start fertilizing acid plants such as rhododendrons, azaleas and camellias now with a good acid plant food.
4. For healthy roses, adopt a regular spray program — once each week.

Your hometown merchant guarantees everything he sells. Remember, it costs several dollars for tires, gas and oil when you go through the tunnel to shop.

Indoor Plants Offer Challenge

Indoo gardening offers a challenge that is twofold:

First, the challenge of cultivating plants for an indoor situation.

Second, the chance to decorate the interior of a home with plants, selecting those that have unusual leaf patterns, bol dshadows or repeat the forms in the lines of the room.

There are, of course, certain rules of thumb that must be followed for successful indoor gardening.

THE GARDENER is entirely responsible for the food and water that the indoor plant receives. Container grown plants cannot send their roots deeper or farther out in search of moisture and foodt—they are restrained by the sides of the container.

ForF indoor plants with no provision for drainage in their containers—dish gardens, for instance—special mixtures of charcoal, layers of peat moss, spagnum moss or pumice are placed in the bottom to act as sponges for moisture.

AS FOR FEEDING, one rule of thumb to follow is a monthly feeding of a diluted liquid fertilizer.

Most plants will not need a feeding after first planting until their roots have nearly filled the container, for the original potting mixture should be rich in nutrients.

Feeding schedules will vary, of course, with the size of the container and the type and number of plants contained.

Bougainvillea Can Do Colorful 'Magic'

Brilliantly colored, the bougainvillea vine can transfer a dull wall or insignifanct fence to a riot of gay, warm colors—purplish red, deep magenta, cerise, pink, bronze, gold or brick red.

CAR FINANCING

About 70 per cent of new cars sold in California during 1954 were financed, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Dwarf Citrus -- After Short Time They Give Fruit

Happy is the gardener with dwarf citrus trees — for within a few short months of planting time he is enjoying delicious, normal sized fruits instead of waiting three to five years as you must when growing regular citrus trees.

Dwarf citrus are a rather recent gardening innovation — the result of hybridizing and experimenting by growers to develop fruit trees that will grow in a limited area, in some cases even in tubs and containers.

And today, as a result of that experimenting (dwarf citrus trees are created by budding or grafting on dwarfing rootstocks), there are many types of such citrus available for the home gardener: Orange, lemon, mandarin, grapefruit, tangelo, lime and kumquat.

And in some cases there are a number of varieties of the individual fruit available, such as the oranges and mandarins.

Keats Might Well Have Meant Roses

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever," wrote the poet Keats.

He might well have written that to describe a rose. For certainly the rose, molded like a piece of sculpture, of many colors and wonderful fragrance, is a thing of beauty.

And standard roses or tree roses are one of the loveliest forms of this beautiful creation.

There are many tree roses to select from for planting around your home. Take for instance the dazzling Fiesta. A most unusual rose, it features stripes and flecks of bright yellow on a background of vermillion. It grows modestly — low and spreading.

The 1945 All America winner Mirandy is another tree rose — an intriguing deep red with full-bodied fragrance.

Asters, Zinnias Popular Pair

As excellent a pair of cut flowers as you can get—this is the opinion of many in reference to asters and zinnias, summertime garden and cut flowers.

The aster wears dark green leathery leaves and blue, pink or white daisy-like flowers.

Very hardy in all areas of the state, it will lboom from July to September.

An excellent color companion to the aster is the zinnia, a summer annual of extreme hardiness.

Available in every color but blue, it has been hybridized to grow in a great variety of forms — dwarf, pompons, tall specimens with shaggy, curled or quilled petals.

G.I. appraiser says $11,350

Although the white picket fence all around this 3 bedroom home, with brick trim, and the beautiful flowers and shrubs make this home look like a million dollars, the owners have to sell at the give-away price of $11,350. It's 2 years old, rustic modern. See it today.

Car Pools, Buses Can Help In Easing Highway Traffic

Freeways, with their interchanges and by-passes, are, by the very nature of things in this commuter-populated section of Contra Costa County, good news for this area.

So is the probability that this area will be an integral initial part of a rail master plan to be recommended soon to the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission by its consulting engineering firm, Parsons, Brickerhoff, Hall and MacDonald.

But while importance of such developments cannot be overemphasized, we must not lose sight of the fact that more cars are on our highways every day.

In other words, the day-to-day problem — right now — is one of coping with ever-increasing congestion on our highways. And this problem becomes daily more severe.

Obviously, alleviating steps are called for. Such steps must be taken promptly, while freeway plans continue to develop and while future rapid transit plans are in the making.

One of the most practical steps for present relief of highway congestion has been mentioned before — and the situation warrants reiteration of it as a reminder to commuters. It is twofold:

1. Formation of ride groups, commonly referred to as "car pools."

2. Increased use of Greyhound commute buses.

The "arithmetic of alleviation" becomes apparent when one figures as follows:

Two, three or four commuters in a "car pool" use one car instead of two, three or four cars.

Additional numbers of commuters leave their cars at home when they ride the Greyhound bus.

Thus, the number of cars on the highway during peak commute hours is materially reduced.

In addition to alleviation of highway congestion, "car pools" and increased use of Greyhound buses will have other salutary effects, as many commuters have learned in the past.

By sharing rides or riding in buses, commuters will make new friends and acquaintances.

Relaxation replaces tenseness; shared expenses (in "car pooling") replace individual expenses.

The cars left at home can be used by the wife for shopping and other local traveling.

So — why not do as The SUN and the Contra Costa County Commuters Association have suggested in the past?—

Form "car pools" or ride Greyhound commute buses.

It's fun — it's practical — and it'll do a lot toward relieving congestion on the highway.

What They Say...

Researchers Are Caught by 'Fever'

Caught in the grip of an acute attack of spring fever, our researchers looked around for company.

Does this urge for inactivity, this compulsion to "just sit," hit other people about this time of the year?

THEY PUT THE phones into action to find out. They asked, "Are you a victim of spring fever? How does it affect you?"

Peter A. Warner of 53 La Espiral, Orinda, hesitated not at all. He said, "If you mean this complete lack of desire to do any work, then I guess I am a victim. I'd just like to get out in the country for a drive, or go fishing."

Spring fever in reverse could describe Ranald A. Sodestrom of 12 Richard Court, Orinda. He said, "When the weather gets nice, I really start to work, believe it or not. I like to work outside, starting now."

MRS. BOB BRIANS of 1030 Brown Avenue, Lafayette, feels much the same way about it. "I generally want to get up early and get out and work in the garden," she said.

Climate fails to affect Joseph E. Taylor of 919 Hawthorn Drive, Lafayette. "No, I don't have spring fever," he said. "It never does seem to bother me."

Wilbert Stephens of 31 Kathryn Drive, Pleasant Hill, exclaimed, "Aren't we all! It makes me want to get outside and start stirring up the ground a bit."

Mrs. James Tobenkin of 121 Gordan Road, Walnut Creek is similarly affected by spring. "Oh yes, I get the urge to be out in the garden."

A different answer and reaction came from John Buckland of 849 Hollyhill Drive, Walnut Creek. Buckland is definitely a victim of spring—"Hayfever is the only kind of fever I get from spring."

"We're victims of spring fever, all right!" said the emphatic Dewey E. Huggard Jr., of 2130 Ahneita Drive, Pleasant Hill. "We've become tired of winter and get anxious for summer to be here," he added.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I was very thrilled as I started to read your "Under the Sun" column of April 22, for I thought at last you were going to plead for more help for the Lafayette Community Center, or perhaps take some of the parents to task over the growing problem of adolescent drinking. Instead, I was surprised and shocked to read that the poor schools are getting it again.

As a mother of two youngsters, and as a former faculty member of Acalanes High School, I too am appalled by the number of high school youngsters who consider drinking a necessary part of their social life, and who are crashing parties, staging beer busts, etc.

But I am equally appalled by your statement that it is the high school's responsibility to provide more dances to partially alleviate this problem.

In the first place, I quarrel with your glib assumption that school dances (more than one a month) are the answer to a growing sociological problem.

The youngsters who are doing the drinking can make a dance a wonderful excuse for a cocktail party beforehand or a beer bust afterward.

Secondly, I quarrel with your suggestion that it is the duty of the schools to provide additional recreation for their students.

I am not a grey-haired old fuddy-duddy, or a stern advocate of the 3 R's, but from my experience as a teacher I know that it is a full time and a half job to help educate youngsters.

Schools have received so much criticism of late for being too full of "frill's that every conscientious teacher is trying his utmost to meet the educational needs of his students.

This involves working in overcrowded classrooms, taking home great bundles of papers to correct, making lesson plans and perhaps taking a night class or two at the University of California.

Believe me—teaching is a hard job. I don't believe it is right or fair to expect the overworked faculties of our schools to conduct evening playtimes!

A high school dance doesn't just happen. They don't just roll up the rug. It is a carefully planned event involving a series of committee meetings which a faculty adviser must direct and supervise.

It involves faculty members assisting in preparing refreshments, in checking collection of money for tickets. It involves a full force of faculty chaperones at the dance — after a full teaching week — and a faculty representative to help supervise cleanup.

In addition to this, faculty members ride the buses to all games, work diligently to put on the musicals, plays and dance programs, attend Parent Club each month and have at least one activity to supervise. Have a heart.

Yes, the high school youngsters need planned recreation. That's what the Lafayette Community Center is working toward, and I'm all for it! But funds for it haven't exactly been pouring in.

By all means let Parents Clubs and PTA's and service clubs and PARENTS work harder toward providing these youngsters with things to do.

But when you start expecting the high schools to practically give away a set of dishes and have bank night every week, you're going to create young adult play schools and face a greater teacher shortage than the serious one we have today!

Margaret H. Mahler

Dear Editor:

In view of the recent air raid alert fiasco, timed so significantly with "A" bomb tests in Las Vegas, civilian defense should be uppermost in the minds of every American today.

Since tomorrow is Armed Forces Day, this is a good time for all of us to stop, think and act on civilian defense.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE means just that — and certainly the need for this assistance by our country has been vividly demonstrated by the Las Vegas tests and the could-be-fatal results of the recent air raid alert failures.

It isn't enough to know civilian workers are needed — it's time thousands more of us do something about it.

Emergency precautions for individual families are not enough any more. The civilian defense agencies desperately need volunteer help.

Perhaps one of the reasons CD has failed locally and nationally is the fact that such a poor percentage of the people seem to care enough to participate actively as individuals or groups.

On June 3, 1954, a Ground Observer Post serving Orinda-Lafayette-Moraga-Walnut Creek, was established. A few people responded to the plea for volunteers.

After one year in operation this skywatch post is manned less than one third of the week.

SURELY THERE MUST be more people in this series of beautiful "sunshine valleys" who want the sun to continue to shine!

This is one phase of civilian defense which requires very little training, very little time, and has been designated of such importance by the government that it is under the supervision of the Air Command.

Perhaps this plea for more volunteers to man the skywatch post would be more effective and personal if everyone could read an "Observer's Creed" written by Mrs. Earle Brown, a G.O.C. member who is stationed in Alitak, Alaska.

THIS IS THE creed:

"I serve because I believe with all my heart in the Constitution of the United States and the precepts upon which it was founded.

"I serve because of the tiny babe cradled upon your breast, for that little tow-headed lad so gay and laughing, and for that curly headed Miss you love so much. For the old and the crippled, sitting in their easy chairs, dreaming of other days, and for you too, Mr. and Mrs. America, because I believe in the brotherhood of man and, when the need arises, I am my brother's keeper.

"I serve because I feel a deep, consuming and protective love for our beloved America.

"THEY SAY THE world has grown hard and callous, that is is only a gesture — this standing watch for enemy planes that never come — but don't you believe it, my friends, for if it were not for the eyes and ears — watching and listening, day and night, our cities might even now, be in blackened ruins. with death and destruction in their wake.

"Thousands of alert observers have proven by their loyal service, that they have a living faith in the things that have made America a great nation.

"I believe if war comes, it will be a war to the death. We will need the united efforts of every man, woman and child to give us the victory that will allow us to lift our heads as a free people.

"America has never lost a war, but should we lose this next one, would we dare face the future generation, and admit we failed, beacuse we were not interested enough to put forth our best efforts?

'I SERVE BECAUSE a fair haired laughing lad left yesterday, for somewhere 'out there.' And there are others I know and love, standing guard in faraway places for our protection. And when I think of He who said, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

"And then I feel in a small measure that I am keeping faith with the boys out there in the lonely, isolated places of the world, by watching over their loved ones at home.

"And the time I serve is indeed a small sacrifice for the protection and freedom of our beloved country."

Only two hours a week is the time asked of volunteers to stand watch at the post — indeed a small sacrifice to ask of any person to help protect the nation.

Civilian volunteer skywatchers are desperately needed in this area — contact Mrs. Isabelle Salisbury, post supervisor, AT 3-2691.

The local post will be open tomorrow for anyone to inspect. It is located on Sweet Drive on the hill above St. Perpetua's Church, Lafayette.

Christian Science

That lasting beauty is gained through spiritual understanding of God's radiance and strength will be stressed at services Sunday in Churches of Christ, Scientist, at 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 42 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body" includes the following verse from the Bible (Psalms 96: 6): "Honour and majesty are before him: strength and beauty are in his sanctuary."

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following (247:10-12, 13-15); "Beauty, as well as truth, is eternal; but the beauty of material things passes away, fading and fleeting as mortal belief. . . . Immortality, exempt from age or decay, has a glory of its own—the radiance of Soul."

Letters to The Editor

(The following letter has been sent to the County Planning Commission by the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, which has furnished The SUN with a copy.)

Chairman
Contra Costa County
Planning Commission
Martinez, California
Dear Sir:

A review of the proposed changes to the County Zonng Ordinance has been made by the Planning Committee of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board and some thoughts for your consideration are passed on to you herein.

In general, the members of the real estate industry have a pledged duty to protect the best interests of the purchasers of real estate, and the owners of all classes of property in this community, including improved proerty of all sizes and developed and undeveloped land.

Tht very nature of the business demands such a broad interest in the community, and obviously precludes championing any special interest, groups or particular areas. Perhaps otherwise described in the following quote from the Code of Ethics of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, to which all members have pledged:

"Under all is the land. Upon its wise utilization and widely allocated ownership depend the survial and growth of free institutions and our civilization. The Realtor is the instrumentality through which the land resource of the nation reaches its highest use and through which land ownership attains its widest distribution. He is a creator of homes, a builder of cities, a developer of industries and productive farms. Such functions impose obligations beyond those of ordinary commerce; they impose grave oscial responsibility and a patriotic duty to which the Realtor should be diligent in preparing himself."

PROPER PLANNING of our county has the enthusiastic support of this board and our knowledge and services are always available to your commission for whatever help it might be in arriving at your decision.

This board realizes the necessity for being prepared for assured orderly urban living in our county that geographically is destined to be among the heaviest populated counties of our country, especially considering the skyrocketing statistics of western migration to our state. Also in this regard, any decision freezing land uses perhaps should take into consideration demands upon this county for housing in 1960 an subsequent years.

Similarly, it is believed where decisions are made further limiting distriution of ownership, such as the proposed increased frontage of RA zoning from 100' to 120, that consideration should be given to:

(a) total area affected

(b) estimated present value of area

(c) number of owners with undeveloped land that will be affected, and their polled reactions

(d) estimated losses due to added linear development costs

(e) the unquestioned demands for increased housing in this county in the future suggests that consideration possibly should be given to decreasing the sizes and width of lots rather than increasing them at this time.

DEFFINITE foresight is shown in providing for parking adjacent to neighborhood shopping; however, limiting the area to a fixed maximum would not seem consistent with increasing requirements for expansion of shopping facilities or with recognized ratios of parking to store area under roof.

There are many changes recommended in the amendments to Ordinance 933 that we feel are definitely improvements over the old ordinance. The amendments and revisions are worded in a clear and consie manner, easily understood by anyone seeking information as to what they can do under the ordinance.

After careful study by our Planning Committee, we believe, with a few exceptions, that the amendments and revisions will contribute to a better ordinance. From our experience in the real estate and developing field, we would like to ask the Planning Commission to consider the following changes which we believe will make a more practical and workable ordinance.

1. Subdivision A-R-1, Subsection 7, Side Yards. We recommend that side yards be 5-5 instead of 15' aggregate.

2. Subdivision G-R-S, Subsection 4, Lot Width. We recommend that the lot width be 75' instead of 80'.

3. Subdivision R-R-1-Z, Subsection 4, Lot Width. We recommend that the lot width be 90' instead of 100'.

4. Subdivision F-R-A, Subsection 1(d), Small Farming. We recommend that the raising of poultry and rabbits be restricted to home use only, with a limit as to the quantity raised.

Subsection 1 (e). We recommend a clarification as to how many head of livestock can be kept on the first acre.

Subsection 4, Lot Width. We strongly recommend that the lot width remain at 100'.

Subsection 7, Side Yards. We recommend tha the side yards be changed to 15-10 an aggregate of 25'.

IN OUR FINAL TWO recommendations, Subsection 4 and 7 of Subdivision F-R-A, we respectfully call the attention of the Planning Commission to the following reasons why we strongly recommend these changes.

First, by changing the lot width to 120', it will, in most developments, increase the developing costs of land up to 20 per cent, and with so much of our remaining undeveloped land in the RA Zoning, it will impose a serious additional expense upon the land owners and the future citizens of our county. It will also force an increased maintenance cost upon the county due to the additional improvements required for the same number of homes.

We feel that possibly the reason for the Planning Commission considering the change in lot width from 100' to 120' is because of the number of requests in the past for modification of the side yards in the RA Zones. In our opinion, this has been caused by the fact that requiring 35 per cent of the lot width for side yards has been too severe, and certainly unnecessary. By reducing the side yards to 15-10, an aggregate of 25 feet, better and larger homes can be constructed on the lots with sufficient side yards to provide plenty of light, air and safety for orderly living. The ratio of 35 per cent for side yards in the RA Zone is out of proportion to the percentage required in the other lot sizes.

BEN HAMLIN, President
Contra Costa Real Estate Board.
A. J. JOHNSON, Chairman
Committee on County Planning.

Dear Editor:

In the last few issues of The Sun I have noticed a number of letters and statements written by various people in defense of Supervisor H. L. Cummings

These statements profess amazement that anyone could criticize a man of Cummings' integrity, long tenure in office, etc. Although it is nice of these particular people to have written in on Mr. Cummings' behalf, I wonder if some of the newer residents of our area are aware of the similarity of the writers connections.

I NOTED THAT one writer is the head of the General Contractors' Association of the county, one has large real estate holdings, another is a Chamber of Commerce representative, another is a builder.

In short, every person who wrote in Cummings' defense seems to have a commercial interest in the county. On the other hand, not one of the statements or letters is signed simply by a resident of the county.

After Cummings' boasted 22 years as a county supervisor, it is strange that all his friends appear to be among the builders and developers, rather than among the residents.

THE FACT THAT his friendship and patronage are slanted toward the commercial developers of the county rather than in the direction of the residents is exactly what the people are complaining about in a recall movement against him.

In itself, the very identity of the writers of letters in Cummings' behalf bears out the complaint of the people. It is logical to assume that had Cummings been less cooperative in giving the builders and developers what they want, then a few of them would be expressing themselves as being for his recall.

With the kind of cooperation they get from Cummings, naturally they are against his recall.

So would the residents be if they got that kind of cooperation from him!

Gene Johnson,

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

The big debate in the Silverman family has been whether or not to give Danny the Salk shot at school. Our family doctor won't innoculate Mark and Janet until November, so Dan was under the question mark.

We read and re-read Dr. Blum's statements but still had lots of questions. Eleanor asked our able reporter, Duane Meyers, to get some additional facts from Dr. Blum. Since many families face this tough problem, we asked Duane to write the interview for the column. And here it is.

Salk shots now or later

It's up to you — and your family doctor.

That, in essence, is how Dr. Henrik Blum, county health officer, feels about the Salk anti-polio shots.

Mothers and fathers worrying about the risk involved in the vaccine program have spent a lot of time puzzling over the question of whether or not to sign the consent slips brought home by their first and second graders.

Many of those parents have called The Sun office about it. We decided to try to cut through some of the confusion by talking directly to Dr. Blum.

We put him on the spot. We asked, "If you had children in the first or second grade, would you sign the consent slip?"

Dr. Blum's answer: "I still can't be categorical about this. I don't have children in the first or second grade, so the question is a bit artificial — but I will say this:

'If your doctor advses against the shots now, follow his advice.'"

The busy and harried health officer went on to say, "There can't be a substitute for your family doctor's advice. He knows you and is familiar with your health problems."

Lots of theory

We asked Dr. Blum if he would comment on the fears some have expressed over getting the Salk shots during the so-called "polio season."

He replied no final proof has been advanced that such shots are riskier at this time than at other times. "It's all theory, so far."

But he again said family physicians' advice should be followed on that question, too.

He repeated his assertion made last week that the maximum risk of getting polio from "even a bad batch of vaccine" is about 1/7th that of naturally occurring polio in the 6-7-year olds.

He said most parents are making up their minds on those odds — and consenting to the immunizations.

Some 7375 inoculations with Lilly vaccine were given in this county, with no cases of polio occurng, the doctor ponteid out.

Dr. Blum said his statement released last week was to help parents make up their minds, but he repeated he could not give a categorical answer to each parents still undecided on the vaccine program.

The tally so far

While we had Dr. Blum on the phone we asked how many polio cases have been reported to the county so far this year.

"It's real quiet so far," he said. He gave this report: January, 7 cases; February, 6; March, 2; April, 1, and May, 2.

Dr. Blum said the two cases reported so far this month include one from Concord, and a 16-year-old Orinda girl. Neither were paralytic cases, he added.

January and February cases were the "tail end" of last year's epidemic, Dr. Blum said.

QUESTIONS

Here are some other questions and Dr. Blum's answers:

Q: What did you mean when you said last week, "The Health Department will continue to be opposed to vaccinations in schools?"

A: The time consumed in such programs is tremendous. We think schools are a place for education—health education included—and the parents should assume the responsibility for getting their children vaccinated, either by their doctors or at free health clinics.

In that way, health records are kept more efficiently (for instance, during the schools' summer vacation, it is nearly impossible to get needed shots quickly for individual children). The health department will go ahead, however, with the Salk program for first and second graders.

Q: What about other diseases, such as measles? Is there an "epidemic" in this part of the county?

A: Measles are "going around" all over. It's the time of year for it—no you can't call it an "epidemic." There's an average of 30 to 60 cases per week reported from mid-April on in the central area (Orinda, Moraga, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Alamo, Mt. Diablo School District). Last year's picture was similar. When you consider the great number of new people in the area and the fact that nearly everyone gets the "regular" measles at least once, those figures aren't surprising.

No "epidemic."

End of interview.
